Lowe Quits GOP Bid To Courthouse

3 Now Remain In Republican Contest For Commissioner

The Republican field for a lone nomination as county commissioner was cut to three Tuesday afternoon when the Columbiana County Election Board approved a withdrawal request from Ernest A. Lowe of Wedgewood St., manager of the Mason Color & Chemical Work, Inc.

Lowe told the board in a brief letter he was quitting the race "because of circumstances beyond my control."

Saturday at 4 p. m. is the deadline for withdrawals.

His action leaves in the field Samuel B. Webber of Idaho Ave., a former councilman; James W. Boyd of St. Clair Ave. Ext., operator of the Boyd Lumber Co. at Glenmoor, and William H. Weir of Salem R. D. 2, operator of a Salem wallpaper and paint store. Commissioner Frank Wilson of Wellsville is unopposed for nomination on the Democratic slate.

At the same time, the fields were reduced in both the Democratic and Republican races for state central committeeman in the five-county 18th Congressional Districts.

Robert Bell of Steubenville was left unopposed for a second term as GOP state committeeman after one of his opponents withdrew and the other was ruled ineligible.

Withdrawing was Harrold Meyers of Barnesville. He sent a letter to the board asking that he be permitted to withdraw and that his name be removed from the ballot.

Acting on a certification from the Belmont County Election Board, the Columbiana County board ruled as ineligible the candidacy of Robert Starks of St. Clairsville, who also filed for the GOP state committee post.

The Belmont board certified to the board in East Liverpool that Starks failed to comply with the "Corrupt Practices Act" by filing a sworn statement of campaign expenses following the May 1960 primary, in which he had opposition for election as a Republican precinct committeeman in Belmont County.

The board here explained that unopposed county committeemen are not required to file the expense statements, but if they are opposed they must give the report.

At the same time, Mele M. Vukelic of Steubenville withdrew from the race for Democratic State Central Committeeman. He made the request by letter.

But Democrats still will have a three-way race for the post. The candidates are Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, the incumbent; John Taylor of Salem, operator of a printing concern and a former state senator, and John W. Targoss, Steubenville insurance agent and a candidate for mayor in the 1961 primaries.

Vukelic, an attorney, is on the staff of the Jefferson County prosecuting attorney. He was defeated in a race for probate judge in the 1960 election.

The board also awarded a contract for ballots for the primaries and another covering poll books for both the primaries and the November general election.

The ballot contract was awarded to the Wellsville Press on its low bid of $4,843.93, based on the

Democrat Has Close Call In Michigan Bid

Ryan's Thin Margin May See Recount In Congressional Race

DETROIT (AP) — Democratic State Sen. Harold M. Ryan barely squeaked through to victory in a special election in Michigan's 14th Congressional District.

So thin was Ryan's margin in a district which Democrats have called their own for the better part of a quarter century that the loser, Republican Robert E. Waldron, also a state legislator, was considering a demand for a recount.

The unofficial tabulation gave labor-backed Ryan a margin of 764 votes among nearly 60,000 cast. Ryan had 30,366, Waldron 29,602.

Waldron said the unofficial result indicated victory for neither Ryan nor himself. He said he would decide on a recount request after an official canvas of the vote Thursday.

The 14th's contest, filling the vacancy left by the death last fall of veteran Democratic Rep. Louis C. Rabaut, was considered of national import.

President Kennedy plumped for Ryan. Prior to the election Kennedy wrote Ryan expressing confidence the voters were aware of the election's importance and saying he counted on Ryan's future support of the administration in Washington.

Kennedy Says U2 Pilot Will Face Probers

Cooperating With U.S. Interviewers Now, He Explains

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy said today U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers is cooperating voluntarily with government interviewers and eventually will be free to testify to congressional committees and appear at a news conference.

Kennedy opened a news conference with a statement on the case of Powers, who was freed by the Russians Saturday in exchange for U.S. release of Soviet spy Rudolf Abel.

The President declined to say how Powers was brought down while flying a high-altitude U.S. reconnaissance photo plane over Russia on May 1, 1960. He said an answer must await the end of questioning by appropriate government authorities.

In his opening statement, the President said he knew there have been many questions about the release of Abel and of Powers.

He said he is happy Powers is back and that he can add only that Powers is cooperating voluntarily with the government in discussions of important information.

Powers will be free to testify to Congress after the official interrogation and will be made available to the press "at the earliest possible moment," the President promised. There have been numerous demands in Congress for committee interrogation of the pilot.

The President was asked what Powers' status would be after the quizzing. Kennedy said Powers would be a free agent, able to carry on any activity he chose.

Report On Powers Expected In 10 Days

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., said today he expects a report within 10 days on Francis Gary Powers' ill-fated U2 spy flight over the Soviet Union.

Sparkman is acting chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which is resuming its inquiry into what happened to the high-flying reconnaissance plane. Presumably Powers, released by the Russians Saturday, is being or will be questioned on this point by Central Intelligence agents.

Southern California Cleans Up

Idaho Fears More Flood; Thousands Are Homeless

By The Associated Press

Southeastern Idaho braced for more flooding today as damage estimates reached the $5-million mark. Thousands were homeless.

Southern California cleaned up after a devastating six-day rainstorm which left a sea of mud and debris, property damage estimated by officials at nearly $1.5 million and 26 storm-related deaths.

A body of water 16 miles long and two miles wide—but shallow — was moving slowly toward Blackfoot, Idaho. This was melted snow, augmented by continued rains.

Water was five feet deep in parts of Pocatello, a city of 27,000 in southeastern Idaho.

In northern Nevada, U.S. Highway 40 was washed out near Elko. Tracks of the Western Pacific Railroad were flooded.

At Battle Mountain, Nev. Southern Pacific Railroad officials refused permission to dynamite the line's tracks, claiming that it was U.S. 40 that was backing up Reese River flood waters. Some citizens dynamited the tracks anyway.

When the flooding Big Horn River in north central Wyoming roared down the town of Greybull its 2,286 residents fled to the hills. However, the crest—caused by two ice jams upstream—was held in check by dikes and the refugees returned to their homes Tuesday night.

High water and ice floes threatened to rip out a bridge across the Green River between Green River, Wyo., and the Flaming Gorge dam construction town of Dutch John in northeastern Utah.

Steel Pact Negotiations Opened Amid Harmony

New Storm Again Perils Glenn Flight

Very Tentatively Set For Thursday Morning At 7:30

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A new storm in the western Atlantic today threatened to force a ninth postponement of the orbital flight of astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., now very tentatively set for Thursday morning.

Glenn, Marine lieutenant colonel, had hoped to get off on his long-delayed triple whirl about the world this morning, but a heavy overcast drifting over the boiling Atlantic forced Project Mercury officials to put it off until 7:30 a.m., Eastern Standard Time, Thursday, at the earliest.

A weather advisory issued shortly before 10 a.m. today by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration made it highly uncertain that the historic flight would go Thursday. It was being freely predicted here that it would not go before Friday.

Officials won't push the button for Glenn's Atlas to rise skyward until assured that weather conditions in the recovery areas won't be too foul. Otherwise there would be danger that the astronaut and his data-filled capsule would be lost in rough seas.

The NASA weather advisory today said:

"The intense low pressure trough located just east of Bermuda is still active.

"A new storm center is moving off Cape Hatteras, N.C., this morning, and is forecast to be near Bermuda Thursday morning, with strong winds and rough seas covering much of the area to the east and west of Bermuda."

If Glenn completed only one orbit he probably would be brought down about 500 miles east of Bermuda. After two orbits the plans are for him to alight about 500 miles south of Bermuda, and after three orbits, about 800 miles southeast of Cape Canaveral.

If the bad weather forecast continues unchanged, the ninth postponement might be announced officially about midafternoon today.

The eighth postponement was made known to newsmen shortly after 2 a.m. today.

As soon as the cancellation was determined, O.B. Lloyd, NASA public information director, advised the White House of the delay by telephone.

Glenn was awakened at 2:15 a.m. by his doctor, William K. Douglas, and advised of the postponement. He had gone to bed in his special quarters four miles from the launch pad at 7 p.m. He was scheduled to arise at 2 a.m., for today's 7:30 a.m. launch.

In Message To Khrushchev

Kennedy Puts Arms Talks Ahead Of Summit Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy told Soviet Premier Khrushchev today that "much clarifying work" toward disarmament will have to be completed before a summit meeting is possible.

But Kennedy added in a message to the Soviet leader:

"This may be necessary in any case before June 1 when a report is to be filed on the progress achieved."

Kennedy told Khrushchev he does not question the usefulness "or perhaps even the necessity of a meeting of heads of government."

He added:

"Indeed, I am quite ready to participate personally at the heads of government level at any stage of the conference when it appears that such participation could positively affect the chances of success."

Kennedy referred to the 18-nation disarmament conference scheduled to open in Geneva on March 14.

The U.S. message was delivered to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in Moscow today and the British quickly followed with their own answer to Khrushchev's proposal that a summit session of 18 nations start the disarmament negotiations opening in Geneva March 14.

The British proposal was that a summit meeting be held after some progress has been made at a lower level.

The reply from British Prime Minister Macmillan said further that "meetings at the foreign ministers level would be the best instrument for achieving progress at the opening stages" of the Geneva session.

A Western proposal to start at the foreign ministers level was the trigger for Khrushchev's counter suggestion of a summit meeting.

Kennedy's message said that the question is one of timing.

He repeated the U.S.-British proposal that the conference open at the foreign minister level.

"I feel that until there have been systematic negotiations—until the main problems have been clarified and progress has been made, intervention by heads of government would involve merely a general exchange of governmental positions which might set back, rather than advance, the prospects for disarmament," Kennedy said.

Kennedy said he was gratified to learn that Khrushchev agreed with the U.S.-British conclusion that heads of government should assume personal responsibility for the success of the forthcoming disarmament negotiations. The question, he said, is how to discharge most usefully that responsibility.

In their original proposal to start the negotiations at the foreign minister level, Kennedy and Macmillan had urged that the chiefs of government assume a personal responsibility for directing the course to be followed by their negotiators. They suggested further that it be agreed in advance to keep the negotiators in session until positive results have been achieved.

Both Sides Aiming For Early Okay

Opening Sessions To Clear Way For Private Parleys

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An unprecedented era of harmony hung over opening steel labor contract negotiations today with both the industry and union bent on achieving the quick settlement asked by President Kennedy.

Selection of Valentine's Day for the bargaining start was described as strictly coincidental. But it fit in with the sweetness-and-light approach the negotiators seem to have adopted in place of their knock-down battling stance in prior years.

Today's initial talks were expected to be mainly exploratory, clearing the way for private meetings between President David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers Union and R. Conrad Cooper, chief negotiator for U.S. Steel Corp. and the industry.

With the bargaining getting under way 4½ months ahead of the June 30 expiration of the current contract, nobody has formally stated a target date for a new agreement, but it is generally believed to be in early March.

Kennedy has said the "earlier the better" will suit him for a new steel contract—thereby avoiding the threat of a midyear strike, disruptive effects of a steel inventory buildup and a consequent economic letdown later on.

The talks today brought union bargaining teams into separate sessions with representatives of the 11 major steel companies.

McDonald was expected to look in on the U.S. Steel meeting, where Cooper also may show up, but the two key figures put off until at least Thursday a start of a huddle on their own.

As in the past, it was expected that McDonald and Cooper and their aides will eventually hammer out the new agreement terms privately when the spadework has been done in larger meetings.

In Washington, Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges predicted an early, non-inflationary settlement — one that won't require "much of an increase, if any" in steel prices.

Close observers said the union could adhere to administration counseling to confine labor gains to increases in productivity and still come out with a handsome settlement in the neighborhood of 10 to 12 cents an hour. Workers presently earn between $2.28½ and $4.38½ an hour.

The union has set job and income security as the major goal for its 430,000 members involved in basic steel negotiations as well as its 500,000 members in steel fabricating, aluminum and other industries. It says it wants a wage boost, too, but there are no specific asking figures.

Bidding Due On Additions For Schools

Lisbon Bank To Get Bond Issue Funds For Higher Interest

Advertising for bids for construction of additions to Beaver Local Schools was authorized by the Board of Education at a meeting Tuesday night at the public school.

The board authorized deposit of from $180,000 to $200,000 of the $253,000 bond issue for the construction project with the Farmers National Bank of Lisbon as an investment move.

The bank will pay interest of as much as 3 per cent after six months. The New Waterford Bank made a similar offer, but would pay only 2.6 per cent after six months. The undeposited funds will be kept to meet initial expenses of the project.

Legal advertising of the bids will begin when copies of plans and specifications are made available for bidders late this week or next week by Robert Beatty, East Liverpool architect.

The board approved a reorganization of the janitorial service program for the high school and

Labor Group, 3 Councilmen Air Tax Plans

A proposal for re - enactment of a city income tax was discussed Tuesday night at an informal meeting of the Council finance committee with a four - member committee representing Trades and Labor Council, which opposed such measures on at least three occasions in the past.

The central body's representatives explained they were unable to make any committments on the stand Trades Council will take if City Council follows Mayor Bert H. Goodballet's suggestion to enact the tax again.

The group obtained figures from the Council committee which it said it will present at Trades Council's next meeting Feb. 21 in the old IBOP Hall.

Trades Council was represented by Joseph A. Winters, secretary-treasurer; Audley Elliott, Jerry Cartwright and Mrs. Gloria Young. All three members of the finance committee were present — George E. Willshaw, chairman, Robert W. Sample Jr. and Edward Massey.

The meeting was held in the Council caucus room. The Council committee did not mention any figure in connection with a proposed rate for a new tax. The councilmen said the figure still is undetermined.

The meeting was arranged at the request of the Trades Council group. Willshaw commented it

Few Object To Route 518 Improvement

Report On Hearing At Lisbon Prepared For State's Study

LISBON — Some 24 landowners along Route 518 and persons using the state road attended a public hearing Tuesday on a proposed improvement for a two-mile stretch estimated to cost $300,000.

William McKenna, Division 11 director of New Philadelphia, and five other officials of the State Highway Department attended, answering questions or complaints and explaining the state's plans in detail.

The project will include the replacement of two one-way bridges, widening, grading and paving the 1.92-mile section beginning at Gavers and continuing east to a point near Township Rd. 776.

Two relocations of existing curves are proposed with the majority of the alignment following the present route.

Few of those present voiced any objections to the proposed improvement but a number asked why it is planned for what they consider the best section of the road at present.

State officials replied elimination of the one-way bridges was the principal factor. Some ques-

Weirton Man Sentenced To Life Term As Habitual

NEW CUMBERLAND — A 32-year-old Weirton man who had been convicted of two felonies and had pleaded guilty to a third was sentenced to life imprisonment Tuesday in Hancock County Circuit Court.

Armando Martello was given the life term in Moundsville State Penitentiary by Judge Ralph E. Pryor under the habitual criminal laws of West Virginia.

He served four years in the Georgia State Penitentiary after a U. S. District Court in Savannah found him guilty Sept. 9, 1948 on a charge of interstate transportation of a stolen vehicle.

He was sentenced May 4, 1954, to 1-10 years in Moundsville Prison on a charge of stealing a cashbox in Weirton.

Martello had pleaded guilty to a felony indictment returned by the January Grand Jury on a charge of uttering forged checks. He is also charged by Brooke County authorities with robbery of a safe at Jim's Bargain Store in that sector of Weirton.

Commission of three felonies in West Virginia can result in imposition of a life sentence. Prosecutor Floyd R. Tarr presented the court information on Martello's criminal record from files of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Martello's wife, Betty, expecting her third child, was present in the court chambers for Tuesday's sentencing. She showed little emotion when Judge Pryor ordered her husband confined to prison for life.

Police said Mrs. Martello acted as a lookout while her husband entered the Weirton store last

Inquest Set In Deaths Of Trio At Wellsville

An inquest will be held Saturday morning in the deaths of School Supt. and Mrs. Seward E. Daw and Mrs. Lyda M. Rowen, all of Wellsville, as a result of an auto accident Nov. 26 in Beaver County.

Dr. John W. Colavincenzo, county coroner, said the inquest will be held at 10 a. m. in his office at the Beaver County Home and Annex at Beaver.

Mrs. Bessie M. Daw, 72, of 1001 Main St., and Mrs. Rowen, 65, of 930 Main St., died instantly in the accident and Mr. Daw, superintendent of Wellsville schools, died Dec. 8 of his injuries. George H. Rowen, fourth occupant of the car, recovered from his injuries. The mishap occurred when William Adams Best, 76, of Beaver Falls pulled out an intersection on Route 251, four miles west of Beaver Falls, and struck the Daw car, sending it careening into a tree.

Differs With Council

Wellsville Mayor Favors City Hall-Postal Building

Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville, speaking before the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday night, advocated that the city should proceed with previous proposals of constructing a combination City Hall and Post Office. He also outlined other administration plans.

Council, at a meeting last week, voted to drop the proposal and inform postal authorities to erect a Post Office wherever the department desires.

The plan was presented last year for a combination building. Several meetings were held with postal authorities, who said that such a plan was feasible.

The mayor commented last night that it would require $200,000 to obtain the necessary property, raze the present City Hall and erect the new building on the site.

He said $14,500 a year would be needed for 20 years to finance the obligation, but pointed out the government would pay $10,000 a year rental for its Post Office space.

The tentative plan called for the Post Office to be located on the first floor and the city offices and jail cell block on the second.

Daugherty said a half mill levy would be required to make up the difference. He said the postal authorities would take a 20-year lease on the building, with an option for 10 more.

He said he believes it would be

Kennedy has said the "earlier the better" will suit him for a new steel contract—thereby avoiding the threat of a midyear strike, disruptive effects of a steel inventory buildup and a consequent economic letdown later on.

The talks today brought union bargaining teams into separate sessions with representatives of the 11 major steel companies.

McDonald was expected to look in on the U.S. Steel meeting, where Cooper also may show up, but the two key figures put off until at least Thursday a start of a huddle on their own.

As in the past, it was expected that McDonald and Cooper and their aides will eventually hammer out the new agreement terms privately when the spadework has been done in larger meetings.

In Washington, Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges predicted an early, non-inflationary settlement — one that won't require "much of an increase, if any" in steel prices.

Close observers said the union could adhere to administration counseling to confine labor gains to increases in productivity and still come out with a handsome settlement in the neighborhood of 10 to 12 cents an hour. Workers presently earn between $2.28½ and $4.38½ an hour.

The union has set job and income security as the major goal for its 430,000 members involved in basic steel negotiations as well as its 500,000 members in steel fabricating, aluminum and other industries. It says it wants a wage boost, too, but there are no specific asking figures.

Bidding Due On Additions For Schools

Lisbon Bank To Get Bond Issue Funds For Higher Interest

Advertising for bids for construction of additions to Beaver Local Schools was authorized by the Board of Education at a meeting Tuesday night at the public school.

The board authorized deposit of from $180,000 to $200,000 of the $253,000 bond issue for the construction project with the Farmers National Bank of Lisbon as an investment move.

The bank will pay interest of as much as 3 per cent after six months. The New Waterford Bank made a similar offer, but would pay only 2.6 per cent after six months. The undeposited funds will be kept to meet initial expenses of the project.

Legal advertising of the bids will begin when copies of plans and specifications are made available for bidders late this week or next week by Robert Beatty, East Liverpool architect.

The board approved a reorganization of the janitorial service program for the high school and

Labor Group, 3 Councilmen Air Tax Plans

A proposal for re - enactment of a city income tax was discussed Tuesday night at an informal meeting of the Council finance committee with a four - member committee representing Trades and Labor Council, which opposed such measures on at least three occasions in the past.

The central body's representatives explained they were unable to make any committments on the stand Trades Council will take if City Council follows Mayor Bert H. Goodballet's suggestion to enact the tax again.

The group obtained figures from the Council committee which it said it will present at Trades Council's next meeting Feb. 21 in the old IBOP Hall.

Trades Council was represented by Joseph A. Winters, secretary-treasurer; Audley Elliott, Jerry Cartwright and Mrs. Gloria Young. All three members of the finance committee were present — George E. Willshaw, chairman, Robert W. Sample Jr. and Edward Massey.

The meeting was held in the Council caucus room. The Council committee did not mention any figure in connection with a proposed rate for a new tax. The councilmen said the figure still is undetermined.

The meeting was arranged at the request of the Trades Council group. Willshaw commented it

Few Object To Route 518 Improvement

Report On Hearing At Lisbon Prepared For State's Study

LISBON — Some 24 landowners along Route 518 and persons using the state road attended a public hearing Tuesday on a proposed improvement for a two-mile stretch estimated to cost $300,000.

William McKenna, Division 11 director of New Philadelphia, and five other officials of the State Highway Department attended, answering questions or complaints and explaining the state's plans in detail.

The project will include the replacement of two one-way bridges, widening, grading and paving the 1.92-mile section beginning at Gavers and continuing east to a point near Township Rd. 776.

Two relocations of existing curves are proposed with the majority of the alignment following the present route.

Few of those present voiced any objections to the proposed improvement but a number asked why it is planned for what they consider the best section of the road at present.

State officials replied elimination of the one-way bridges was the principal factor. Some ques-

Idaho Fears More Flood; Thousands Are Homeless

By The Associated Press

Southeastern Idaho braced for more flooding today as damage estimates reached the $5-million mark. Thousands were homeless.

Southern California cleaned up after a devastating six-day rainstorm which left a sea of mud and debris, property damage estimated by officials at nearly $1.5 million and 26 storm-related deaths.

A body of water 16 miles long and two miles wide—but shallow — was moving slowly toward Blackfoot, Idaho. This was melted snow, augmented by continued rains.

Water was five feet deep in parts of Pocatello, a city of 27,000 in southeastern Idaho.

In northern Nevada, U.S. Highway 40 was washed out near Elko. Tracks of the Western Pacific Railroad were flooded.

At Battle Mountain, Nev. Southern Pacific Railroad officials refused permission to dynamite the line's tracks, claiming that it was U.S. 40 that was backing up Reese River flood waters. Some citizens dynamited the tracks anyway.

When the flooding Big Horn River in north central Wyoming roared down the town of Greybull its 2,286 residents fled to the hills. However, the crest—caused by two ice jams upstream—was held in check by dikes and the refugees returned to their homes Tuesday night.

High water and ice floes threatened to rip out a bridge across the Green River between Green River, Wyo., and the Flaming Gorge dam construction town of Dutch John in northeastern Utah.

Weirton Man Sentenced To Life Term As Habitual

NEW CUMBERLAND — A 32-year-old Weirton man who had been convicted of two felonies and had pleaded guilty to a third was sentenced to life imprisonment Tuesday in Hancock County Circuit Court.

Armando Martello was given the life term in Moundsville State Penitentiary by Judge Ralph E. Pryor under the habitual criminal laws of West Virginia.

He served four years in the Georgia State Penitentiary after a U. S. District Court in Savannah found him guilty Sept. 9, 1948 on a charge of interstate transportation of a stolen vehicle.

He was sentenced May 4, 1954, to 1-10 years in Moundsville Prison on a charge of stealing a cashbox in Weirton.

Martello had pleaded guilty to a felony indictment returned by the January Grand Jury on a charge of uttering forged checks. He is also charged by Brooke County authorities with robbery of a safe at Jim's Bargain Store in that sector of Weirton.

Commission of three felonies in West Virginia can result in imposition of a life sentence. Prosecutor Floyd R. Tarr presented the court information on Martello's criminal record from files of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Martello's wife, Betty, expecting her third child, was present in the court chambers for Tuesday's sentencing. She showed little emotion when Judge Pryor ordered her husband confined to prison for life.

Police said Mrs. Martello acted as a lookout while her husband entered the Weirton store last

Inquest Set In Deaths Of Trio At Wellsville

An inquest will be held Saturday morning in the deaths of School Supt. and Mrs. Seward E. Daw and Mrs. Lyda M. Rowen, all of Wellsville, as a result of an auto accident Nov. 26 in Beaver County.

Dr. John W. Colavincenzo, county coroner, said the inquest will be held at 10 a. m. in his office at the Beaver County Home and Annex at Beaver.

Mrs. Bessie M. Daw, 72, of 1001 Main St., and Mrs. Rowen, 65, of 930 Main St., died instantly in the accident and Mr. Daw, superintendent of Wellsville schools, died Dec. 8 of his injuries. George H. Rowen, fourth occupant of the car, recovered from his injuries. The mishap occurred when William Adams Best, 76, of Beaver Falls pulled out an intersection on Route 251, four miles west of Beaver Falls, and struck the Daw car, sending it careening into a tree.

Differs With Council

Wellsville Mayor Favors City Hall-Postal Building

Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville, speaking before the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday night, advocated that the city should proceed with previous proposals of constructing a combination City Hall and Post Office. He also outlined other administration plans.

Council, at a meeting last week, voted to drop the proposal and inform postal authorities to erect a Post Office wherever the department desires.

The plan was presented last year for a combination building. Several meetings were held with postal authorities, who said that such a plan was feasible.

The mayor commented last night that it would require $200,000 to obtain the necessary property, raze the present City Hall and erect the new building on the site.

He said $14,500 a year would be needed for 20 years to finance the obligation, but pointed out the government would pay $10,000 a year rental for its Post Office space.

The tentative plan called for the Post Office to be located on the first floor and the city offices and jail cell block on the second.

Daugherty said a half mill levy would be required to make up the difference. He said the postal authorities would take a 20-year lease on the building, with an option for 10 more.

He said he believes it would be board's specifications. The only other bid, totaling $7,351.91, was received from the Dodge Publishing Co. of Salem.

However, additional ballots will have to be ordered, over and above the base bids, as only four or five of a total of 10 special issues had been filed with the Election Board at the time the ballot specifications were drawn up and sent to printers.

For additional levies, Wellsville Press specified a charge of $12 per 1,000. Dodge specified a price of $18 per 1,000 if the quantity exceeds 7,000 and $22 per 1,000 if the quantity is below 7,000.

The bid from Wellsville Press called for a rate of $29.15 per 1,000 on the Democratic office-type ballot and $28.80 on the Republican office type. Its bids on tax levies ranged from $11.25 per 1,000 to $34.65 per 1,000.

Dodge bid $47 per 1,000 on the office-type ballots and $18 per 1,000 on each of three countywide levies. For other levies, the charge would be $22 per 1,000, it said.

The poll book contract went to the Columbus Blank Book Co. of Columbus on its low bid of $24.05 per precinct for each election.

Other bids on poll books were: Herr Printing Co. of Columbus, $25.30 per precinct, and Johnson-Watson Printing Co. of Dayton, $25.10 per precinct.

The board voted to certify to Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw the names of 24 candidates in the 1961 general and primary elections who failed to file the required sworn statements of campaign expenses.

The 24 are from communities throughout the county, including members of both major political parties and some who ran as nonpartisan candidates.

When the names are certified, they will be accompanied by a letter from the board to Brokaw explaining the action was taken "for your consideration and action."

The names previously were certified to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown. State law forbids a candidate to run again for five years if he fails to file an expense report.

The name of one Republican Central Committee candidate will be omitted from the ballot because of death. She is the late Mrs. Grace Rumberger, committee member for many years in East Liverpool Precinct 4-G. The law does not allow the name of a deceased person to be listed on the ballots.

The board ruled "insufficient" the declarations of candidacy filed by eight seeking election as GOP central committeemen. The name of one Democratic committee candidate was ruled out for his failure to file an expense statement following the November 1961 general election.

The board granted places for 10 special questions and issues filed previously. Ballot places also were granted to all other district and county candidates, including 120 seeking Republican Central Committee posts and 180 running for Democratic Central Committee seats.

a good investment for the city because in 20 years it would own the building and still have the income from the rental.

The Post Office problem has been discussed for a number of years at various times. Many proposals and sites have been presented but rejected each time for various reasons.

The mayor also announced plans to begin a sidewalk and curb construction program in the spring, utilizing relief labor. He said that if the property owners provide the necessary materials, the city will furnish the labor for the construction and repair.

Daugherty said he also plans to revamp the refuse disposal program and provide a method for controlling the dumping at the city dump off Route 39.

He said he plans to cut the hours in actual collection in the city and will present a system of fees to Council governing outside dumping.

In regards to the water department, the mayor said a drive will be held to collect delinquent accounts.

He said those whose bills are in arrears will be called in for an interview to set up a program for paying off the account over a given period. If anyone fails to meet the agreement, the water service will be turned off, he said.

Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare was a guest. Twenty-four attended. Richard Grills, president, conducted business.

Political Union Will Take Longer

With no advance warning, the United States and Canada are being swept along by the same strong economic current that has been carrying Europe out of the doldrums.

The current issue of U.S. News & World Report reports that union between the United States and Canada is an idea gaining support, especially among Canadian businessmen.

The idea concerns only economic cooperation in the immediate future. Political union, it is acknowledged, is farther away and on a more limited basis. But the faster the European Common Market materializes, if Britain becomes a member, the faster Canada will be pushed into closer economic cooperation with the United States.

Further impetus has been given the idea by the new state of Alaska, drawing more attention to the closeness of the geographical ties between the United States and Canada.

Canada is a vast warehouse of raw materials. Its manufacturing enterprise is not large enough to utilize the materials to best advantage. Moreover, Canadian manufacturing is not notably efficient, because it has lacked the sufficient volume to make it competitive with U.S. manufacturing.

The over-all idea is that economic union with the United States is coming about by force of circumstances, including the European Economic Community that promises to remake Europe and eventually to bring about political as well as economic union. It is becoming a question of when, not whether.

And the impetus is coming from Canadian businessmen, not from U.S. businessmen, though the latter have no objection.

Economic cooperation is not going to be an isolated phenomenon in Europe that will be of only remote interest to Americans. It is now as close to home as tariff revision and the prospect that two kinds of Americans—Canadians and citizens of the United States—may be in a national merger before the end of the 20th century.

Tax Still Needed

Mayor Goodballet has joined the ranks of those who see re-enactment of the city income tax as the most logical answer to the municipality's financial problem.

The mayor had vetoed a similar tax passed by the 1960-61 Council, but explained Monday night that he now feels there is no other way to raise the money needed.

Since its inception, The Review has endorsed the tax as the fairest way to obtain the revenue necessary to assure proper administration of the city government. Council should give the fullest consideration to re-enactment.

With judicious planning and with efficient handling of the money that would be received, a good case could be made for the tax if it were allowed to function over an extended period of time.

Brotherhood Under Fire

As had been expected, Robert Kennedy's globe-trotting is being turned to critical account by the Kennedy family's political opponents, though no one yet knows with what success.

It may turn out that the young attorney general and his charming wife, as well as the President's still younger brother Teddy and the mistress of the White House, herself, when she finally makes her trip to India, will be so captivating there will be nothing for Republican critics to carp about.

But the new travelers probably will have no more success in the long run than Richard and Pat Nixon had when they were the traveling emissaries of good will for the Eisenhower administration. That is to say, they, too, will be persecuted and hounded by Communist-organized red-hots in every corner of the world.

No highly placed American official traveling abroad can count on being spared this harrowing experience. Even press secretaries rate Communist attention, as James Hagerty learned when he went to Tokyo and as Pierre Salinger will learn some day soon. It is a curious situation that makes it possible for the Communists to get away with it.

Visitors from abroad are almost entirely free from such discourtesies in the United States. The only sour note in their welcome is an occasional placard demonstration by minorities carrying on transplanted feuds and nursing transplanted grievances in a new land. Even Germans and Japanese can count on courteous, even warm, welcomes, unmarred by the wild violences and studied insults that lie in wait for officials of the United States in every foreign city.

Is there an explanation?

Could it be that Communists unwittingly are pointing up a fact about the United States that makes it unique—that it is the only international power with a strong enough sense of brotherhood to stand being kicked around? The Communists who stage the hostile demonstrations may be doing this country a favor by giving a succession of Americans a chance to show how to behave under fire.

Your Heater OK?

Eight weeks ago an Ohio woman was advised by authorities to vent a space heater. She ignored the advice.

Today, she and two others are dead as the result of fumes from the same heater.

Need there be any more forceful reminder for district residents with faulty heaters?

Resemblance Coincidental

The hardest thing George Romney may have to contend with if he becomes the subject of an all-out presidential buildup is Wendell Willkie, who came out of nowhere in 1940 to snag the Republican presidential nomination.

Any resemblance between Romney and Willkie is purely coincidental, as Romney will have reason to point out if he becomes involved in a presidential boom. Unless Romney can shatter the illusion of a resemblance, he will be saddled with the idea that he, like Willkie, is destined for the same fate.

Our surmise is that Wendell Willkie was the first American to go into orbit. He simply kept gaining thrust and momentum until pfffft! there he went!

When he withdrew from politics after the Wisconsin primary in April 1944, his political career had been all over for some time. His death in October that year was a tragic anticlimax to a career so fast and furious it was hard to remember it lasted only four years and that Wendell Willkie was only 52 when it ended.

George Romney should resist the comparison. Whatever he turns out to be in politics, he isn't likely to turn out to be another Wendell Willkie.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Warner Brothers have paid $5½ million for movie rights to "My Fair Lady." Most amazing story of musical comedy history could now be rewritten with following synopsis:

Alan Lerner, a poor boy who has to struggle along with only a couple of Broadway hits and a millionaire father, is outside a railway station shabbily clad and selling fresh ideas for the theater.

A professor, Henry Higgins, noticing that Alan speaks the language of Broadway, bets a friend he can take him under his wing and teach him language of the ming, the World Bank, Golconda and Mammon.

(He knows that the boy is peddling scripts that might cost less than $75,000 to produce and would consequently have to close after the second night.)

Alan responds to professor and is soon having no trouble pronouncing words like "opulence," "super-talent," "capitalistic," "exchequer," "affluence" and "Utopia."

He can also pronounce G. Bernard Shaw, Fred Loewe and Pgymalion, winning cooperation of all three.

Things reach point where tables are reversed, with Prof. Higgins turning out to be deficient in intellect and "know-how," while young author shows genius. Big scene comes when Lerner, Loewe and ghost of Shaw appear on balcony and burst into "We Could Have Collaborated All Evening. Furthermore We Did So and Ran 2,500 Nights."

In a crucial scene Alan's father protests his own son is being unfairly matched from chainstore trade and sings "Get Him Back to the Store and Women's-Wear Business on Time." In a surprise scene Good Fairy, Lady Luck, Santa Claus, Prosperina, Golden Claf and Peter Rabbit appear and keep Alan working on how to run longer than a Geneva disarmament meeting. In finale there is a chariot race between Warner Brothers and other Hollywood producers. Warner wins by a certified check.

ELIZABETH TAYLOR took few hours from "Cleopatra" set to visit Paris and go on shopping binge, paying $6,000 for a fur coat called "Somaliland Panther." Eddie Fisher did the caddying with checkbook but was reported silent as Sphinx in matter of keeping expenses down.

New Broadway play "The Aspern Papers" is being miscalled "Aspirin Papers" by many playgoers attending show for headache relief.

New York World Fair will have a Ringling circus with day and night shows featuring top acrobats, elephants, etc. There are millions of kids and grownups in New York who have never seen a circus under a tent and will now get chance.

Elephant drilled to use shovel at circus ground-breaking blew top and attacked trainer. It's possible even animals are now responding to less work trend.

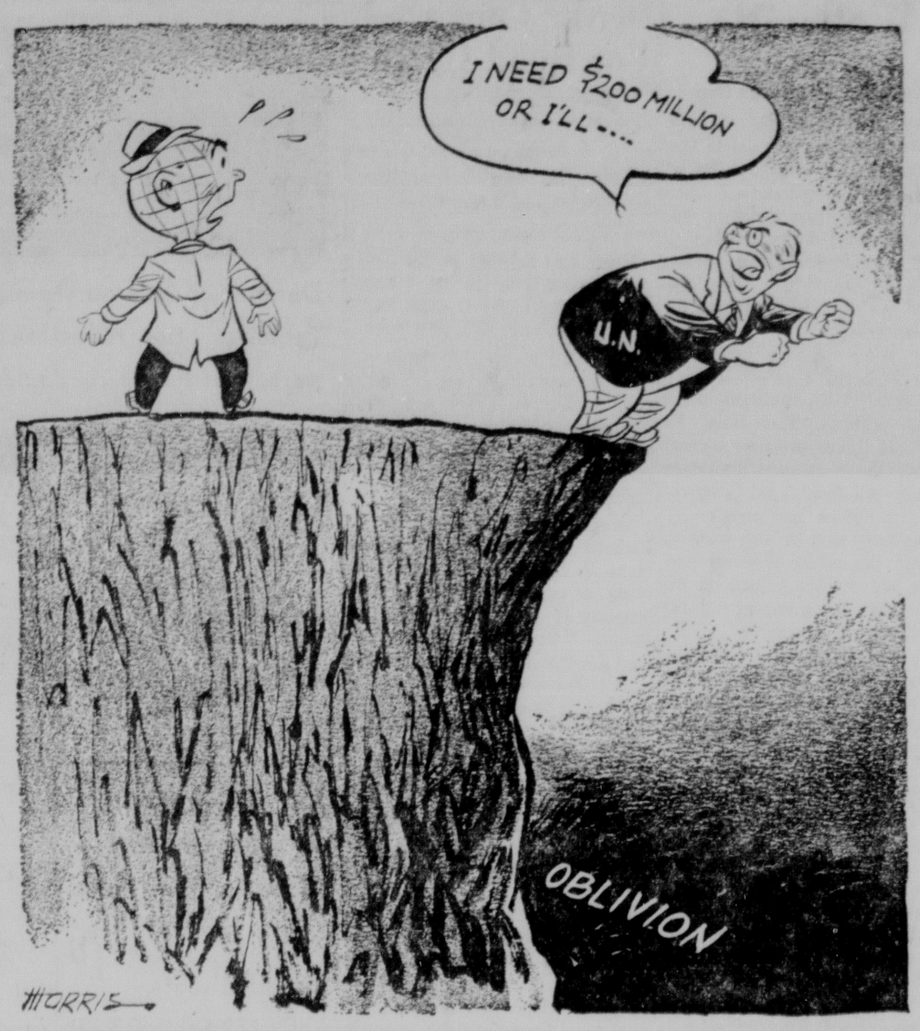
Roy Atwell, who died the other day, was once one of top theater stars. He went back to era of Lulu Glaser, Eddie Foy and Marie Cahill. He was Syracuse, N.Y., boy who ran away with a band and later with theatrical wagon troupe in boyhood. He was famous in '30s for his stuttering routine on radio.

There must be moments when Mrs. Bobby Kennedy turns to her husband with a sarcastic "You and your idea of a pleasure trip!"

A. C. Gilbert, world champion pole vaulter who went on to become a multimillionaire in toy business, won title with a jump of around 12 feet.

In the field of philately, few industries have received greater recognition through the postage stamp than forestry and its related fields. Trees and conservation have long been favorite subjects of world stamp designers.

The Hard Sell!



'Boomers' Leave Us In The Hole

By Victor Riesel

It is time this country got to know the "boomers." For we are a land overrun by them. Which is fine. Otherwise we might be overrun by you know who. "Boomers" are a hardy lot because theirs is a tough lot. For they are the men on the move, shifting from mountain to mountain carving out huge caverns, digging huge holes into the ground for vast concrete tubes.

Victor Riesel

These are science - fiction type silos. Some day soon we should have 800 of them, all filled with warheads aimed at Sino-Soviet cities and military targets.

How soon these Atlas and Titan and Minuteman silos will be finished depends on the "boomers" — and on how frequently they play games like calling in sick, or pulling a strike because coffee time was shifted. And they sure have been striking parts of the $3 billion defense complex. Right up to this very minute.

In fact, January was the worst month on the silo front in a long time. So angered by the wintertime silly strike season was Arthur Goldberg he reported this to the President and called in some of the construction union leaders. Goldberg said he wanted the walkouts stopped. Immediately. He indicated he wanted January to be a freak phenomenon, not the beginning of another missile base strike age.

He thought this had been stopped by the swift and efficient operations of the Missile Sites Labor Commission and its expert executive director, Julius Kuczma.

THE "BOOMERS" apparently did not agree. A "boomer" is a craftsman who is hired on at an isolated base or in an area where labor is scarce.

When they are taken on in large numbers, they boom up the small communities near the site. Sometimes living is rough for the "boomer." He has no permanent housing, no fixed schools for his youngsters, no roots, though he is well paid.

The government is trying to do what it can. But there is no excuse for what happened in January when more man days were lost by strike-happy action than at any time since Mr. Kuczma's counter operation began.

There were, for example, five stoppages at the Titan installations at Larson Air Force Base, Moses Lake, Wash.

I gather these missiles are aimed at Siberia and might also have a sobering effect on those tigers of Mao Tse-tung. Certainly the sage old Chinese Communist tactician, Marxist and field commander must look nervously over his shoulder as he sends his guerrillas into Laos and South Viet Nam to shoot at some of our men.

One of the Larson stoppages resulted from the firing of a single shop steward.

ANOTHER STRIKE sprang from a feud between millwrights, on one side, and iron workers and pipefitters on the other. The millwrights said they were doublecrossed. They claimed the right to "shimming and shoring" and leveling up of equipment, as did the others who got the assignment. This I gather is like putting a book of matches under a table leg to steady it. Result: Loss of 1500 man days; the backing up of the flow of supplies and a delay in timetables.

At another site, the Atlas Lincoln Air Force Base in Nebraska, there was a series of quickies. Eleven in all in January. As one government official put it: "They got silly. There were sick calls and objection to the most minuscule matters. Time and money were lost."

Earlier there was a stoppage at a cavern dig-out under Cheyenne Mountain near Colorado Springs. More than 300 men struck there because one man was fired. He had moved into an area despite a sign warning that it was unsafe.

THIS CAVERN, when completed, will house the underground command post for the North American Air Defense. Must be important. We're spending $66 million on the big hole.

I could report similar incidents from northern New York to southern Idaho. One strike broke out because the men were told not to drink coffee on the job at certain moments. Coffee is every man's privilege. So is his right to strike in the United States. Or to go booming elsewhere. But why abuse the privilege?

There's a mighty good reason for all those expensive holes in the ground!

A Short Day

By Truman Twill

A strange and potentially awkward thing is happening. There is a conspiracy to send the lady I balance a check book with and me to England so we can see the sights and come back home broadened.

People we scarcely know sidle up to us and murmur, "Be sure to go to England this summer." People we know well are putting the arm on us to start packing our bags.

And all the time this lady and I keep looking at each other and wondering why everybody is so hell-bent on getting us out of the country, as if we were Mr. and Mrs. Unlucky Luciano.

We have no objection to going to England. We're all for it. But we hate to be pushed.

And if we do go, we don't want anybody to be disappointed about the broadening effect. The last thing we want to see is what people will expect us to see — the broadening sights.

We are not interested in museums, churches, monuments, piles of rocks, the place where Shakespeare poached a deer, battlegrounds, town halls, towers and moats.

We are not interested in libraries, documents, castles, schools, forts, guardsmen, pageantry, waxworks and public squares.

We are not picture - takers, sketchers, or collectors of memorabilia. We are not interested in family ancestors, socialized medicine, British politics, or delving into the European Economic Market and its effect on the sterling bloc and the commerce of the Commonwealth.

There is only one reason we want to go to England, other than to see where our children have been living since last August and to thank some nice people for being good to them. We would like to see how Englishmen, Scotsmen and Welshmen whose circumstances are similar to ours live out their quiet lives.

We'd like to drive in a leisurely way from one village to another and stay each night at a different pub on the British bed-and-breakfast plan.

We'd like to see trees, fields and streams in the countryside the way the people who live there see them — unhurried and with a sense of being part of something that has lasted so long people really mean it when they say there will always be an England.

We'd like to know what it smells like in England in the early morning and at dusk. And we'd like to sit and watch the life of English villages unfold for another short day in a long history.

When we mention this, people look at us as if we'd flipped and tell us about Big Ben, the Buckingham Palace Guards, London Tower, Stonehenge and Stratford-on-Avon until they make us wonder if that's what we'd do if we went to England.

If that's all there is to it, we might as well stay home and look at picture cards. If wouldn't cost a penny and there would be no complications.

We're going to be sorry to disappoint a lot of people but it's settled. Nothing we've seen before if we go to England, unless it happens to be there and unavoidably in sight. Okay?

Image Of Autocracy

By David Lawrence

Is This Democracy At Its Best?

The last thing in the world that President Kennedy probably wants to do is to create the image of an autocracy. Unwittingly that's the impression conveyed by some of his messages to Congress calling for a concentration of power in the executive in everything from the fixing of agricultural prices to the raising or lowering of taxes by the White House. Also, without consulting Congress, the President has used the "executive order" authority to go beyond the written law. His subordinates have taken a cue from him and have stretched their activities beyond the principles of the Constitution itself. Here are some examples:

David Lawrence

1. The chairman of the Federal Communications Commission speaks out with the President's approval and threatens all radio and television stations with a possible refusal to renew their licenses if they don't furnish programs according to the taste or judgment of the administration. It is denied that this is "censorship" but it certainly is a form of coercion.

2. The President's press secretary assembles in a private meeting the secretaries of members of Congress of the Democratic party and urges them to get their constituents to write letters to the TV stations, particularly in the West, which are not carrying presidential press conferences on the air. When constituents start writing to stations and telling them they have been advised by the offices of their congressmen or senators to demand that the President be given more space on television, it begins to look less like an ordinary publicity maneuver and more like a form of coercion, for the TV stations may come to feel their licenses will not be renewed if they don't play ball with the administration.

3. The press has published in recent days many dispatches from Washington telling how "censorship" operates inside the government with respect to public speeches not merely by military personnel but by civilians. The President has a legal right to withhold information as to the individual censors but the fact is that when censorship is applied the public feels that a kind of "party line" is being handed out.

4. President Kennedy has come out in favor of organizing federal employes in labor unions and has issued an executive order requiring formal recognition of such unions. While the document discreetly points out that a federal employe can refrain from joining if he wishes, and still keep his job —a sort of "right to work" doctrine — it also provides an elaborate machinery to encourage union organization.

SURPRISINGLY enough, a task force of administration officials, headed by Secretary of Labor Goldberg, has proposed — and the President has accepted its recommendations — that the "check-off" of union dues be instituted. An individual may refrain, of course, from giving permission to deduct his dues from his pay check, but the main purpose is to make dues collection easier.

5. At present, only 33 per cent of the 2.3 million federal employes are unionized. By making it possible to collect dues from a bigger percentage of federal employes not only do the unions get more revenue, but an organization is established through which political pressure can be exerted in behalf of the administration.

It could become a powerful political body. These employes, including postal workers, are located in every community in the country.

6. By executive order of the President and without authority from Congress, a company which bids for any government contract now must, in effect, give assurances to the executive departments that it will hire an as yet undetermined number of persons from every race or creed or color.

This policy was adopted to a limited extent under the preceding administration, but it has been carried even further under the present administration.

An official questionnaire has been sent to 38,000 companies — each of which has contracts with the government in excess of $50,000 — asking them to list how many Negroes they employ.

WILL THEY next be asked how many of each religion they employ? How many of the 15½ million workers involved who have earned their place by merit will be deprived of their jobs to make way for the others?

This is obviously a political move in the civil rights controversy, but it is also a form of coercion in which the people's money that should be spent only by the award of government contracts to the lowest bidder, could conceivably be spent among contractors who are subservient to the government on political issues but who charge higher prices.

The whole theory seems to be that "the end justifies the means." It's a doctrine which political bossism has always followed, but in these days when America is boasting abroad about the freedom of the individual in our midst, some of these goings-on seem more suitable for a "police state" than a democracy.

Aussies' Lost Cause

By William Fitter

For the first time since the immigration program began more than 10 years ago, Australian authorities are beginning to wonder whether their target of a 20 million population by the end of the century can be achieved.

Australia has raised its immediate post-war population of eight million to well over 10 million but current trends are not encouraging. The number of immigrants in the fiscal year 1961-62 is estimated at 115,000 against the target figure of 125,000. But this 10,000 deficit will be exacerbated by the fact that an increasing number of immigrants are returning to their original countries.

The net increase in Australia's population from immigration in the second quarter of last year was only 14,258 while in the third quarter the increase fell to 9,770. 9,770.

Other figures show that the over all rise in population (the excess of births over deaths plus net immigration) was 214,555 in 1959, 231,997 in 1960 but only an estimated 210,000 last year, for which the final figures have not yet been issued.

There are two main reasons for this check. The first is economic, and many people believe, of the government's own making. Since the government of Robert G. Menzies abolished import controls and then 15 months ago, damped down credit and spending to arrest a grave overseas trading deficit, the employment market has been sick.

The rise in the number of registered unemployed (from around 56,000 to about 115,000) has not in itself been catastrophic but the injury to public confidence has been deep.

It has been damaging internally and even more so overseas where the picture of Australia as a land expanding industrially and offering boundless opportunities in employment has been sadly dimmed.

It would seem that the government, which only just survived last December's general election with a majority of two in the House of Representatives, has learned the lesson.

Alan responds to professor and is soon having no trouble pronouncing words like "opulence," "super-talent," "capitalistic," "exchequer," "affluence" and "Utopia."

He can also pronounce G. Bernard Shaw, Fred Loewe and Pgymalion, winning cooperation of all three.

Things reach point where tables are reversed, with Prof. Higgins turning out to be deficient in intellect and "know-how," while young author shows genius. Big scene comes when Lerner, Loewe and ghost of Shaw appear on balcony and burst into "We Could Have Collaborated All Evening. Furthermore We Did So and Ran 2,500 Nights."

In a crucial scene Alan's father protests his own son is being unfairly matched from chainstore trade and sings "Get Him Back to the Store and Women's-Wear Business on Time." In a surprise scene Good Fairy, Lady Luck, Santa Claus, Prosperina, Golden Claf and Peter Rabbit appear and keep Alan working on how to run longer than a Geneva disarmament meeting. In finale there is a chariot race between Warner Brothers and other Hollywood producers. Warner wins by a certified check.

The Hard Sell!

'Boomers' Leave Us In The Hole

By Victor Riesel

It is time this country got to know the "boomers." For we are a land overrun by them. Which is fine. Otherwise we might be overrun by you know who. "Boomers" are a hardy lot because theirs is a tough lot. For they are the men on the move, shifting from mountain to mountain carving out huge caverns, digging huge holes into the ground for vast concrete tubes.

Victor Riesel

These are science - fiction type silos. Some day soon we should have 800 of them, all filled with warheads aimed at Sino-Soviet cities and military targets.

How soon these Atlas and Titan and Minuteman silos will be finished depends on the "boomers" — and on how frequently they play games like calling in sick, or pulling a strike because coffee time was shifted. And they sure have been striking parts of the $3 billion defense complex. Right up to this very minute.

In fact, January was the worst month on the silo front in a long time. So angered by the wintertime silly strike season was Arthur Goldberg he reported this to the President and called in some of the construction union leaders. Goldberg said he wanted the walkouts stopped. Immediately. He indicated he wanted January to be a freak phenomenon, not the beginning of another missile base strike age.

He thought this had been stopped by the swift and efficient operations of the Missile Sites Labor Commission and its expert executive director, Julius Kuczma.

THE "BOOMERS" apparently did not agree. A "boomer" is a craftsman who is hired on at an isolated base or in an area where labor is scarce.

When they are taken on in large numbers, they boom up the small communities near the site. Sometimes living is rough for the "boomer." He has no permanent housing, no fixed schools for his youngsters, no roots, though he is well paid.

The government is trying to do what it can. But there is no excuse for what happened in January when more man days were lost by strike-happy action than at any time since Mr. Kuczma's counter operation began.

There were, for example, five stoppages at the Titan installations at Larson Air Force Base, Moses Lake, Wash.

I gather these missiles are aimed at Siberia and might also have a sobering effect on those tigers of Mao Tse-tung. Certainly the sage old Chinese Communist tactician, Marxist and field commander must look nervously over his shoulder as he sends his guerrillas into Laos and South Viet Nam to shoot at some of our men.

One of the Larson stoppages resulted from the firing of a single shop steward.

ANOTHER STRIKE sprang from a feud between millwrights, on one side, and iron workers and pipefitters on the other. The millwrights said they were doublecrossed. They claimed the right to "shimming and shoring" and leveling up of equipment, as did the others who got the assignment. This I gather is like putting a book of matches under a table leg to steady it. Result:

Loss of 1500 man days; the backing up of the flow of supplies and a delay in timetables.

At another site, the Atlas Lincoln Air Force Base in Nebraska, there was a series of quickies. Eleven in all in January. As one government official put it: "They got silly. There were sick calls and objection to the most minuscule matters. Time and money were lost."

Earlier there was a stoppage at a cavern dig-out under Cheyenne Mountain near Colorado Springs. More than 300 men struck there because one man was fired. He had moved into an area despite a sign warning that it was unsafe.

THIS CAVERN, when completed, will house the underground command post for the North American Air Defense. Must be important. We're spending $66 million on the big hole.

I could report similar incidents from northern New York to southern Idaho. One strike broke out because the men were told not to drink coffee on the job at certain moments. Coffee is every man's privilege. So is his right to strike in the United States. Or to go booming elsewhere. But why abuse the privilege?

There's a mighty good reason for all those expensive holes in the ground!

A Short Day

By Truman Twill

A strange and potentially awkward thing is happening. There is a conspiracy to send the lady I balance a check book with and me to England so we can see the sights and come back home broadened.

People we scarcely know sidle up to us and murmur, "Be sure to go to England this summer." People we know well are putting the arm on us to start packing our bags.

And all the time this lady and I keep looking at each other and wondering why everybody is so hell-bent on getting us out of the country, as if we were Mr. and Mrs. Unlucky Luciano.

We have no objection to going to England. We're all for it. But we hate to be pushed.

And if we do go, we don't want anybody to be disappointed about the broadening effect. The last thing we want to see is what people will expect us to see — the broadening sights.

We are not interested in museums, churches, monuments, piles of rocks, the place where Shakespeare poached a deer, battlegrounds, town halls, towers and moats.

We are not interested in libraries, documents, castles, schools, forts, guardsmen, pageantry, waxworks and public squares.

We are not picture - takers, sketchers, or collectors of memorabilia. We are not interested in family ancestors, socialized medicine, British politics, or delving into the European Economic Market and its effect on the sterling bloc and the commerce of the Commonwealth.

There is only one reason we want to go to England, other than to see where our children have been living since last August and to thank some nice people for being good to them. We would like to see how Englishmen, Scotsmen and Welshmen whose circumstances are similar to ours live out their quiet lives.

We'd like to drive in a leisurely way from one village to another and stay each night at a different pub on the British bed-and-breakfast plan.

We'd like to see trees, fields and streams in the countryside the way the people who live there see them — unhurried and with a sense of being part of something that has lasted so long people really mean it when they say there will always be an England.

We'd like to know what it smells like in England in the early morning and at dusk. And we'd like to sit and watch the life of English villages unfold for another short day in a long history.

When we mention this, people look at us as if we'd flipped and tell us about Big Ben, the Buckingham Palace Guards, London Tower, Stonehenge and Stratford-on-Avon until they make us wonder if that's what we'd do if we went to England.

If that's all there is to it, we might as well stay home and look at picture cards. If wouldn't cost a penny and there would be no complications.

We're going to be sorry to disappoint a lot of people but it's settled. Nothing we've seen before if we go to England, unless it happens to be there and unavoidably in sight. Okay?

Image Of Autocracy

By David Lawrence

Is This Democracy At Its Best?

The last thing in the world that President Kennedy probably wants to do is to create the image of an autocracy. Unwittingly that's the impression conveyed by some of his messages to Congress calling for a concentration of power in the executive in everything from the fixing of agricultural prices to the raising or lowering of taxes by the White House. Also, without consulting Congress, the President has used the "executive order" authority to go beyond the written law. His subordinates have taken a cue from him and have stretched their activities beyond the principles of the Constitution itself. Here are some examples:

David Lawrence

1. The chairman of the Federal Communications Commission speaks out with the President's approval and threatens all radio and television stations with a possible refusal to renew their licenses if they don't furnish programs according to the taste or judgment of the administration. It is denied that this is "censorship" but it certainly is a form of coercion.

2. The President's press secretary assembles in a private meeting the secretaries of members of Congress of the Democratic party and urges them to get their constituents to write letters to the TV stations, particularly in the West, which are not carrying presidential press conferences on the air. When constituents start writing to stations and telling them they have been advised by the offices of their congressmen or senators to demand that the President be given more space on television, it begins to look less like an ordinary publicity maneuver and more like a form of coercion, for the TV stations may come to feel their licenses will not be renewed if they don't play ball with the administration.

3. The press has published in recent days many dispatches from Washington telling how "censorship" operates inside the government with respect to public speeches not merely by military personnel but by civilians. The President has a legal right to withhold information as to the individual censors but the fact is that when censorship is applied the public feels that a kind of "party line" is being handed out.

4. President Kennedy has come out in favor of organizing federal employes in labor unions and has issued an executive order requiring formal recognition of such unions. While the document discreetly points out that a federal employe can refrain from joining if he wishes, and still keep his job —a sort of "right to work" doctrine — it also provides an elaborate machinery to encourage union organization.

SURPRISINGLY enough, a task force of administration officials, headed by Secretary of Labor Goldberg, has proposed — and the President has accepted its recommendations — that the "check-off" of union dues be instituted. An individual may refrain, of course, from giving permission to deduct his dues from his pay check, but the main purpose is to make dues collection easier.

5. At present, only 33 per cent of the 2.3 million federal employes are unionized. By making it possible to collect dues from a bigger percentage of federal employes not only do the unions get more revenue, but an organization is established through which political pressure can be exerted in behalf of the administration.

It could become a powerful political body. These employes, including postal workers, are located in every community in the country.

6. By executive order of the President and without authority from Congress, a company which bids for any government contract now must, in effect, give assurances to the executive departments that it will hire an as yet undetermined number of persons from every race or creed or color.

This policy was adopted to a limited extent under the preceding administration, but it has been carried even further under the present administration.

An official questionnaire has been sent to 38,000 companies — each of which has contracts with the government in excess of $50,000 — asking them to list how many Negroes they employ.

WILL THEY next be asked how many of each religion they employ? How many of the 15½ million workers involved who have earned their place by merit will be deprived of their jobs to make way for the others?

This is obviously a political move in the civil rights controversy, but it is also a form of coercion in which the people's money that should be spent only by the award of government contracts to the lowest bidder, could conceivably be spent among contractors who are subservient to the government on political issues but who charge higher prices.

The whole theory seems to be that "the end justifies the means." It's a doctrine which political bossism has always followed, but in these days when America is boasting abroad about the freedom of the individual in our midst, some of these goings-on seem more suitable for a "police state" than a democracy.

Aussies' Lost Cause

By William Fitter

For the first time since the immigration program began more than 10 years ago, Australian authorities are beginning to wonder whether their target of a 20 million population by the end of the century can be achieved.

Australia has raised its immediate post-war population of eight million to well over 10 million but current trends are not encouraging. The number of immigrants in the fiscal year 1961-62 is estimated at 115,000 against the target figure of 125,000. But this 10,000 deficit will be exacerbated by the fact that an increasing number of immigrants are returning to their original countries.

The net increase in Australia's population from immigration in the second quarter of last year was only 14,258 while in the third quarter the increase fell to 9,770. 9,770.

Other figures show that the over all rise in population (the excess of births over deaths plus net immigration) was 214,555 in 1959, 231,997 in 1960 but only an estimated 210,000 last year, for which the final figures have not yet been issued.

There are two main reasons for this check. The first is economic, and many people believe, of the government's own making. Since the government of Robert G. Menzies abolished import controls and then 15 months ago, damped down credit and spending to arrest a grave overseas trading deficit, the employment market has been sick.

The rise in the number of registered unemployed (from around 56,000 to about 115,000) has not in itself been catastrophic but the injury to public confidence has been deep.

It has been damaging internally and even more so overseas where the picture of Australia as a land expanding industrially and offering boundless opportunities in employment has been sadly dimmed.

It would seem that the government, which only just survived last December's general election with a majority of two in the House of Representatives, has learned the lesson.

Chamber Board Advised

Area's UOVDC Members Arrange Meeting Feb. 26

East Liverpool area members of the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council will meet at the Chamber of Commerce office Monday, Feb. 26, at 8 p. m. to discuss the development council's program and make plans for the future, the Chamber Board of Trustees was advised at its monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon.

C. Walter Ashbaugh, first vice president of the UOVDC, announced initial plans for the session. Other officers of the six-county organization are expected to attend, he added.

Ashbaugh also reported on a meeting of area Chamber of Commerce executives held Jan. 26 at Steubenville to discuss the UOVDC's program.

It was decided that the board's next meeting on Tuesday, March 13, will be in the form of an evening dinner meeting at the Travelers Hotel, to which chairmen of all committees will be invited.

It will be the third joint meeting of its type in the last year. Normally, the Chamber board holds its monthly meetings at 4 in the afternoon.

The joint evening session with the committee chairmen was decided upon on recommendation of Alvin T. Babb, president. Similar sessions were held in the early spring and fall of 1961.

William D. Ogilvie, chairman of the Executive Committee, reported a recommendation that steps be taken to increase the usefulness of the board meeting room at the Chamber's offices by placing business publications there and asking the C. of C. members to stop off at their convenience to read them.

On the recommendation of Dr. John A. Fraser, a member of the board, the trustees voted endorsement of a program sponsored by the County Medical Society for a general polio immunization program, utilizing the new Sabin oral vaccine.

Charles Taylor, chairman of the business relations committee, reported on a new study course the Chamber will offer called "Freedom vs. Communism — the Economics of Survival." The series of classes is scheduled to begin in the spring.

A letter was received from the U. S. Chamber advising that its 50th anniversary meeting will be held April 29 -May 2 in Washington. The local Chamber expects to send a delegation.

Announcement also was made of a U. S. Chamber "aireade" on national legislation scheduled March 1 at Columbus. Executives of the national organization, in a flying trip around the nation, will conduct the one-day session to advise Ohio Chamber members of legislation expected to be presented at the current session of Congress and its possible impact on businessmen.

E. R. Chandler, secretary-manager, reported on the mid-winter conference of the Chamber of Commerce Executives of Ohio, which he attended last week at Columbus.

2 Cars Damaged In Rt. 154 Crash

LISBON — Cars driven by an East Palestine man and a North Lima woman were damaged in a collision on Route 154 about five miles east of Rogers Tuesday night at 7:45.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said the car driven by Nelson Knight of East Palestine rammed the rear of one operated by Jeanette Weisenberger of North Lima, who had halted for a stop sign. Neither driver was injured.

A pickup truck and car were damaged in a sideswipe mishap on Route 30 about two miles east of the Stark County line yesterday morning.

A car driven by Craig Campbell, 19, of Robertsville was being pushed by another vehicle, and as he turned into a parking lot, James Layfield, 23, of East Rochester attempted to pass him. After the collision, Layfield's truck went off the road and struck a pole, officers said.

Gosney Gets Oath Again In Vote Post

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, Democrat, received the oath of office Tuesday from Secretary of State Ted W. Brown to begin a new four-year term on the County Election Board March 1.

Atty. James L. McSweeney of Wellsville, Republican, was prevented by illness from making the trip to Canton, where the secretary of state set up a "traveling office" to interview new board members.

Gosney received his certificate of appointment from Brown, then filed it with Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey at Lisbon, who also administered an oath to him. Gosney obtained McSweeney's certificate of appointment from Brown and turned it over to Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board. McSweeney is expected to take the oath of office later.

Law requires the Election Board to reorganize within five days after March 1, electing a chairman and a clerk. No date has been set. Carl L. Stacey of Columbiana, Democrat, is the chairman. O'Hanlon, of East Liverpool, is a Republican. The fourth member of the board is Atty. Charles A. Pike of Lisbon, Republican. Stacey and Pike are hold-overs.

Gosney and McSweeney recently were recommended for reappointment by the county executive committees of their respective parties.

Rep. Riley's Widow Given Congress Nod

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)— Democrats in South Carolina's 2nd Congressional District have nominated Corinne Boyd Riley to Congress—an action she regards as "further tribute" to her husband, the late Rep. John J. Riley.

Mrs. Riley, 67, of Sumter, defeated State Rep. Martha Thomas Fitzgerald of Columbia by more than 2-1 in a special primary Tuesday.

Republicans of the district met Tuesday night and decided not to put up a candidate against Mrs. Riley, who has promised not to run for re-election after serving out the remainder of her husband's term.

Next meeting Feb. 27 will feature a first degree initiation of a class of candidates.

Council Votes Sewer Bonds

NEW CUMBERLAND — Town Council passed on first reading Tuesday night a 19-page ordinance calling for issuance of $235,000 in revenue bonds to finance a new sewage disposal plant and improvements to the water system.

Council also appointed Atty. Edwin Flowers as town solicitor to fill a vacancy created by the death of Atty. Thomas MacKenzie.

Recommended by the Water and Sewage Board, the ordinance will go into effect a month after it is advertised for a required period.

The Magnus Bonding Co. of Cincinnati prepared the bond agreement.

Council also approved an ordinance confirming rates and charges for services of the new water system. The 19-page ordinance provides for the collection of the water rates.

The two projects will be financed under the one bonding agreement with the Cincinnati firm. Construction of the sewage plant is required by West Virginia officials as a step against pollution of the Ohio River.

Council also received four bids for a new police cruiser but did not award a contract. The bids were taken under advisement. Mayor Albert Fuccy presided.

City Minister Speaks To Club At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — John Mostoller, minister of the East Liverpool First Church of Christ, spoke at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Tuesday night, attended by four members of the East Liverpool club.

Mostoller said many scientific discoveries are available in the world today, but questioned whether the world has adequate morality to properly utilize them.

Hearing

tioned whether the widening would reduce the present curves much and others wondered why more footage would be required from some tracts than others for the same road width.

The highway spokesman said the department uses different methods in figuring the land required for the right-of-way. Several complained it seemed the state "just wanted the best land" from each owner and that they were not sure where the road would go even by giving the land requested.

After explaining details, a question-and-answer period followed and this was taken in shorthand for incorporation in a report to State Highway Director E. S. Preston, along with McKenna's report.

The second phase of the hearing concerned testimony for and against the project and this was taken on a tape recorder to be made part of the report of the hearing. Only three persons recorded their opinions.

Judson English, assistant manager of the East Liverpool office of the Columbiana County Motor Club, who said he was speaking as an individual, contended the project would benefit the county by removing the narrow bridges and if the western section is improved then the department might see fit to work on the eastern section, which residents claim is in worse condition.

Robert A. Williams of Lisbon questioned the cost of the project, relative to other sections of the road, and the Rev. Frank Hare said he doesn't object to the proposal but believes other sections should be given priority.

McKenna said that if the section is not improved then the state would probably give the money to another county. He said that to his knowledge, the state has not made recommendations for any other improvement of this road.

Appearing with McKenna were these officials of the district design department, Robert Jenkins, planning and design; Richard Shaefer, design engineer; Wayne Gotchel and John Ellwood, agents for rights-of-way, and Richard Robinson, public relations.

Information from the hearing will be given to Preston and the state highway office for a decision on the proposal.

Tax

was a "very friendly and informative" session.

Mayor Goodballet, in a 35-minute address to Council Monday night, proposed enactment of the tax again as the only equitable way of raising funds the city needs to continue adequate service to the public and plan for capital improvements.

Council took the mayor's proposal under advisement. Willshaw said there would be no decision immediately.

Lions At Cumberland Present Awards To 5

C. W. Probert of Wintersville screened a film on "Whither Thou Goest," about a leader dog school for the blind.

month. Brooke County authorities are not now expected to prosecute Martello.

Judge Pryor, in a conference with the prosecutor, Martello, and the defendant's counsel, said "Your situation is not hopeless," apparently referring to possibilities of parole in later years for good behavior in prison.

Martello appeared in court with his arm in a sling.

Judge Pryor granted a continuance in a scheduled hearing for Walter Cox Steiner, 20, of Weirton who pleaded innocent earlier to a charge of theft of $31 from Ina's Place in Weirton Oct. 10. He was indicted in January.

The hearing was continued until Feb. 23 at 11:30 a. m. and Steiner is expected to enter a plea of guilty to a lesser charge.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Four groups of union workers who left the Teamsters Union want Common Pleas Court to defer a suit by the international union until Union chief James Hoffa answers some questions.

East Liverpool, Ohio

Dear friends,

There are many things we might tell you about the methods we use in our funeral service. But, after all, it isn't what we say that counts . . . it is what our clients say. If we can please the families we serve, our own comments about our work are unimportant.

Compliments about our service frequently drift back to us. Nothing pleases us more than that.

Council Votes Sewer Bonds

NEW CUMBERLAND — Town Council passed on first reading Tuesday night a 19-page ordinance calling for issuance of $235,000 in revenue bonds to finance a new sewage disposal plant and improvements to the water system.

Council also appointed Atty. Edwin Flowers as town solicitor to fill a vacancy created by the death of Atty. Thomas MacKenzie.

Recommended by the Water and Sewage Board, the ordinance will go into effect a month after it is advertised for a required period.

The Magnus Bonding Co. of Cincinnati prepared the bond agreement.

Council also approved an ordinance confirming rates and charges for services of the new water system. The 19-page ordinance provides for the collection of the water rates.

The two projects will be financed under the one bonding agreement with the Cincinnati firm. Construction of the sewage plant is required by West Virginia officials as a step against pollution of the Ohio River.

Council also received four bids for a new police cruiser but did not award a contract. The bids were taken under advisement. Mayor Albert Fuccy presided.

City Minister Speaks To Club At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — John Mostoller, minister of the East Liverpool First Church of Christ, spoke at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Tuesday night, attended by four members of the East Liverpool club.

Mostoller said many scientific discoveries are available in the world today, but questioned whether the world has adequate morality to properly utilize them.

Hearing

tioned whether the widening would reduce the present curves much and others wondered why more footage would be required from some tracts than others for the same road width.

The highway spokesman said the department uses different methods in figuring the land required for the right-of-way. Several complained it seemed the state "just wanted the best land" from each owner and that they were not sure where the road would go even by giving the land requested.

After explaining details, a question-and-answer period followed and this was taken in shorthand for incorporation in a report to State Highway Director E. S. Preston, along with McKenna's report.

The second phase of the hearing concerned testimony for and against the project and this was taken on a tape recorder to be made part of the report of the hearing. Only three persons recorded their opinions.

Judson English, assistant manager of the East Liverpool office of the Columbiana County Motor Club, who said he was speaking as an individual, contended the project would benefit the county by removing the narrow bridges and if the western section is improved then the department might see fit to work on the eastern section, which residents claim is in worse condition.

Robert A. Williams of Lisbon questioned the cost of the project, relative to other sections of the road, and the Rev. Frank Hare said he doesn't object to the proposal but believes other sections should be given priority.

McKenna said that if the section is not improved then the state would probably give the money to another county. He said that to his knowledge, the state has not made recommendations for any other improvement of this road.

Appearing with McKenna were these officials of the district design department, Robert Jenkins, planning and design; Richard Shaefer, design engineer; Wayne Gotchel and John Ellwood, agents for rights-of-way, and Richard Robinson, public relations.

Information from the hearing will be given to Preston and the state highway office for a decision on the proposal.

Tax

was a "very friendly and informative" session.

Mayor Goodballet, in a 35-minute address to Council Monday night, proposed enactment of the tax again as the only equitable way of raising funds the city needs to continue adequate service to the public and plan for capital improvements.

Council took the mayor's proposal under advisement. Willshaw said there would be no decision immediately.

month. Brooke County authorities are not now expected to prosecute Martello.

Judge Pryor, in a conference with the prosecutor, Martello, and the defendant's counsel, said "Your situation is not hopeless," apparently referring to possibilities of parole in later years for good behavior in prison.

Dinner Of Civil War Group To Mark 'Locomotive Theft'

Plans for a public dinner marking the anniversary of the famous Civil War raid by Union soldiers into Georgia, in which a locomotive and train were stolen, were outlined at a meeting of the Tri-State Civil War Roundtable Tuesday night at the Carnegie Public Library.

Wayne Wallace, president, announced plans for the dinner to be held early in April in East Liverpool.

Judge Louis Tobin, chairman of the dinner committee, has been authorized to invite State Sen. Lowell Fess of Yellow Springs, a member of the Ohio Civil War Centennial Commission.

William Pittenger of Jefferson County and William Campbell of Salineville were among some 20 men who made the raid into Georgia in 1862 in an effort to disrupt railroad connections in the Confederacy prior to a Union thrust.

The group, headed by James Andrews, one-time Hancock County resident, captured a train, but was followed closely by Georgia railroad employes in a thrilling escape later to be called "The Great Locomotive Chase," ending with the raiders being made prisoner.

Andrews, Campbell and six others were hanged, while Pittengers and a number of the remainder were the first Americans to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor.

A paper on news gathering and editorial methods of newspapers during the Civil War was read by Richard Wilson.

Wilson pointed out news in most papers in those days was distorted or biased by the reporters' or editors' prejudices and the freshness of information was limited by the crude and slow communications of the times.

The roundtable authorized a return to the original schedule of meeting on alternate second Tuesdays and Wednesdays of each month. The group had been meeting only on the second Tuesday, but some members reported they were unable to attend Tuesday sessions.

Next meeting is March 16.

NEW YORK (AP)—Jacqueline Kennedy came to New York City Tuesday for a private overnight visit.

Estate Distributions Aired By Attorney At Rotary Club

Various methods in distributing an estate — using the process to suit the best needs of the individuals concerned while still preventing shrinkage of the capital from taxes — were outlined by Atty. Lawrence W. Smith Jr. at the Rotary Club's meeting Tuesday in the Travelers Hotel.

Speaking on "Estate Planning," Atty. Smith said effective distribution of capital is a job for the family lawyer and sometimes requires a team of experts to accomplish, if the best interests are to be served.

"The object of estate planning is to arrange for transfer of property to provide for minimum tax loss, consistent with the owner's non-tax objectives," he pointed out.

"If you save on taxes only, you might have the wrong idea entirely. Sometimes it is better to swallow the bitter pill and pay the taxes, although, in large, lots of money can be saved according to the methods used," he added.

He listed the tools of estate planners as lifetime gifts, in which the owner drops to a lower tax bracket by giving away part of his estate during his lifetime; life estates, trusts, gift tax privileges and marital deductions.

Atty. Smith described each "tool" used by planners of estates in passing on the capital according to the owner's wishes.

Using a mythical case to emphasize the various ways in which savings may be accomplished in the process, Atty. Smith gave as an example an estate of $200,000 left by a husband to his wife.

Given her as an outright gift, the estate was reduced by $37,500 in taxes. Given as income from the estate only, $32,700 was lost in taxes. When one-half of the estate was given to the wife and the remainder placed in a non-qualified trust fund, the taxes under the "marital reduction" law were only $9,600, he explained.

"Trusts set up in the owner's definite advantages if the person wishes to keep his affairs secret and save expenses of administrative delays," Atty. Smith said in discussing the "tools" of estate planning.

He added a great amount of an estate can be given away during the owner's life under the gift tax privilige, which allows giving away of $30,000 in a lifetime, tax free, or $3,000 per year, also tax exempted. The figures can be doubled each year under the marital deduction law, he said.

He also discussed community property laws relating to administering of an estate.

He cited the importance of an owner in gathering information that may help in the job of processing the estate, such as wills, deeds to property, stock certificates and bonds, insurance policies, notes receivable, bank books, income tax returns for three years past, Social Security papers and affidavits of divorce and armed forces service.

Atty. Smith was introduced by Dr. R. Jay Kinsey, president. Roy H. Wilson, trust officer of the First National Bank, was a guest.

There's no other V-8 like it. It's the latest in a series of Ford V-8 triumphs that started back in 1932 when Ford introduced the world's first popular-priced V-8. Today—30 years and 30 million V-8's later—the Challenger "260" adds new fuel to the hottest performance record in V-8 history. It gives you all the time-tested toughness of iron—with a lightness and compactness iron never had before. A muscular 164 hp, this new Challenger "260" V-8 is all snap, sparkle and smoothness. It runs on regular, yet gives you better gas mileage than any standard-size 6-cylinder car. Price it and you're in for a surprise—a Fairlane V-8 carries a smaller price tag than some compact Sixes. And, of course, a Fairlane gives you big-car room and fine-car quality you'll find in no other car anywhere near Fairlane's amazing low price. Freezing Rain Slicks Roads

Freezing rain glazed Columbiana County highways early Tuesday night, with the result State Highway Department ashing crews spent several hours on the road system.

The department's Leetonia garage said roads were in good condition this morning but slick in spots although a temperature rise this morning may remove the last of the ice.

Gaylor Zellers, superintendent, said 17 crews were out about three hours last night after the freezing rain started.

Slippery spots were reported on some area main roads this morning, and a number of secondary roads were hazardous with icy and wet places the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said.

Ice was blamed for a minor school bus accident this morning near Elkton in which a Beaver Local bus operated by Andrew Lepock of St. Clair Ave. Ext., principal at Elkton School, skidded into a ditch. No one was injured.

Meanwhile, high winds lashed the district but there were no reports of damage.

The wind exceeded an estimated 25 miles an hour velocity with higher gusts that rattled windows and whipped TV antennas.

Firemen said they had no report of damage and the Ohio Power Co. said it had none.

The downtown had 35 degrees at 6 a. m. and the day's high was expected to reach near 40, with a colder trend developing by tonight.

Skies will clear this afternoon then temperatures will go below freezing with a range of 20 to 28 forecast. Thursday will be a little warmer with rain likely by afternoon.

Police arrested Early Owens, 21, of Beaver Falls on a description furnished after the Kenoco service station at 819 24th St. was robbed. He was identified by Charles Pegg, the attendant.

Owens also will receive a hearing tonight before Fubio on charges of armed robbery and aggravated assault and battery.

The Rev. Fred E. Beadle of 88 W. Main St., Salineville, received severe shoulder injuries at the John M. Hirst & Co. coal mine on Route 39 east of Salineville when an explosive charge to loosen coal ignited before he could get clear.

Rev. Beadle, a native of Carroll County who has resided in the Salineville area most of his life, has worked in the mines for a number of years.

He and his wife, Mrs. Edythe Beadle, have preached at various churches in the district, and have been affiliated with the Assembly of God Church.

Motorists Stage 'Grand Opening' For Parking Lot

Planning to attend the grand opening of the new municipal parking lot on the Ceramic Theater site? Forget it; it's too late.

A few brave souls already have held their own "grand opening," venturing onto the rough surface formed by brick rubble from the walls of the towering old theater. During rush hours, as many as a dozen have taken advantage of the inviting wide open space.

Razing of the theater and rough filling of the site were completed about a month ago. Officially, so far as the city government is concerned, the lot is not open for use yet.

Safety - Service Director Robert Owen said the city's next step will be to spread slag liberally on the surface, using a heavy grade in several spots that tend to be muddy. He said blacktop surfacing and installation of parking meters will wait until weather permits, probably in April.

Man Jailed, Fined In Delinquency Case

LISBON — After two hours of testimony Tuesday in Juvenile Court, Ralph Andress, 59, of Salem R. D. 5 changed his plea to guilty of contributing to the delinquency of two former neighbor girls, ages 11-13, and a boy, 14, and was fined and sentenced. The three were apprehended for shoplifting at the Boardman Plaza Feb. 3.

Judge Louis Tobin sentenced Andress to six months in the County Jail and fined him $200. and costs. The sentence was suspended on condition of good behavior and he must make restitution to the stores.

The Columbiana County Welfare Department was ordered to make an investigation of the children and their homes and their hearing was set for Feb. 26 by Judge Tobin.

public school effective Monday. Allen Pepin was hired to serve as the first fulltime night janitor for the two buildings, and will work from midnight to 7 a. m. then have a bus run.

The hours of the other janitors will be revised correspondingly, George VanHorne, executive head, reported.

Leonard Townley, high school janitor, was granted a $100 pay increment as is customary after a service period.

The board also established a revised pay schedule for substitutes and helpers in non-certified personnel.

The schedule calls for $1.50 an hour for substitute janitors, garage and maintenance men; $11 a day and travel expenses for a nurse and $6.50 a day for bus drivers. The board plans a study on pay for substitute teachers, which is currently $14 a day.

The board granted a salary adjustment for Mrs. Ann Kirkbride and Mrs. Alta Mercer, who have completed bachelor degree work in education.

Miss Shirley Jean Shepas of Poland was hired as commercial teacher, replacing Mrs. Audrey Hardy, who has been granted maternity leave. The board also approved the adult education staff including Thomas McCall, Calvin Graber, Patricia Todd, Margaret Strader, Andy Petrick and Lee Kirkland.

The policy on coverage for school buildings was renewed with the Nationwide Insurance Co. through O. Dail Mason of Lisbon.

The board approved attendance of Van Horne to the American Association of School Administrators convention at Atlantic City Friday through Feb. 21; High School Principal Kirkland to the National Association of Secondary Principals at St. Louis in March, and Patrick Julius, Calcutta principal, to the National Elementary Principals Association meeting at Detroit in March.

The board also approved attendance of Urban Petros, elementary supervisor; Roy Cashdollar, public school principal, Graber and Walter Lineberry, science instructor, to an education workshop at Columbus next month.

The board approved a new contract with the Youngstown School for the Deaf for Howard Johnston of Negley Rd., who has been attending the school, and accepted a recommendation of the Ohio Edison Co. for a commercial rate contract for the high school rather than a higher present rate.

VanHorne today reported the total cost of lighting, fence and improvement at the athletic field was $15,593. This was paid for by a drive which netted $13,137 in contributions and the remainder paid by the Beaver Local Athletic Association.

The project included $11,614 for lights and transformers, $1,791 for steel fence, $1,491 for scoreboard and the remainder for metal beams, wiring and lumber.

Ice was blamed for a minor school bus accident this morning near Elkton in which a Beaver Local bus operated by Andrew Lepock of St. Clair Ave. Ext., principal at Elkton School, skidded into a ditch. No one was injured.

Meanwhile, high winds lashed the district but there were no reports of damage.

The wind exceeded an estimated 25 miles an hour velocity with higher gusts that rattled windows and whipped TV antennas.

Firemen said they had no report of damage and the Ohio Power Co. said it had none.

The downtown had 35 degrees at 6 a. m. and the day's high was expected to reach near 40, with a colder trend developing by tonight.

Skies will clear this afternoon then temperatures will go below freezing with a range of 20 to 28 forecast. Thursday will be a little warmer with rain likely by afternoon.

Coal Miner 'Critical' After Salineville Blast

A 60-year-old Salineville part-time minister remains in "critical" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered in a coal mine blast Monday.

The Rev. Fred E. Beadle of 88 W. Main St., Salineville, received severe shoulder injuries at the John M. Hirst & Co. coal mine on Route 39 east of Salineville when an explosive charge to loosen coal ignited before he could get clear.

Rev. Beadle, a native of Carroll County who has resided in the Salineville area most of his life, has worked in the mines for a number of years.

He and his wife, Mrs. Edythe Beadle, have preached at various churches in the district, and have been affiliated with the Assembly of God Church.

Motorists Stage 'Grand Opening' For Parking Lot

Planning to attend the grand opening of the new municipal parking lot on the Ceramic Theater site? Forget it; it's too late.

A few brave souls already have held their own "grand opening," venturing onto the rough surface formed by brick rubble from the walls of the towering old theater. During rush hours, as many as a dozen have taken advantage of the inviting wide open space.

Razing of the theater and rough filling of the site were completed about a month ago. Officially, so far as the city government is concerned, the lot is not open for use yet.

Safety - Service Director Robert Owen said the city's next step will be to spread slag liberally on the surface, using a heavy grade in several spots that tend to be muddy. He said blacktop surfacing and installation of parking meters will wait until weather permits, probably in April.

Man Jailed, Fined In Delinquency Case

LISBON — After two hours of testimony Tuesday in Juvenile Court, Ralph Andress, 59, of Salem R. D. 5 changed his plea to guilty of contributing to the delinquency of two former neighbor girls, ages 11-13, and a boy, 14, and was fined and sentenced. The three were apprehended for shoplifting at the Boardman Plaza Feb. 3.

Judge Louis Tobin sentenced Andress to six months in the County Jail and fined him $200, and costs. The sentence was suspended on condition of good behavior and he must make restitution to the stores.

The Columbiana County Welfare Department was ordered to make an investigation of the children and their homes and their hearing was set for Feb. 26 by Judge Tobin.

public school effective Monday. Allen Pepin was hired to serve as the first fulltime night janitor for the two buildings, and will work from midnight to 7 a. m. then have a bus run.

The hours of the other janitors will be revised correspondingly, George VanHorne, executive head, reported.

Leonard Townley, high school janitor, was granted a $100 pay increment as is customary after a service period.

The board also established a revised pay schedule for substitutes and helpers in non-certified personnel.

The schedule calls for $1.50 an hour for substitute janitors, garage and maintenance men; $11 a day and travel expenses for a nurse and $6.50 a day for bus drivers. The board plans a study on pay for substitute teachers, which is currently $14 a day.

The board granted a salary adjustment for Mrs. Ann Kirkbride and Mrs. Alta Mercer, who have completed bachelor degree work in education.

Miss Shirley Jean Shepas of Poland was hired as commercial teacher, replacing Mrs. Audrey Hardy, who has been granted maternity leave. The board also approved the adult education staff including Thomas McCall, Calvin Graber, Patricia Todd, Margaret Strader, Andy Petrick and Lee Kirkland.

The policy on coverage for school buildings was renewed with the Nationwide Insurance Co. through O. Dail Mason of Lisbon.

The board approved attendance of Van Horne to the American Association of School Administrators convention at Atlantic City Friday through Feb. 21; High School Principal Kirkland to the National Association of Secondary Principals at St. Louis in March, and Patrick Julius, Calcutta principal, to the National Elementary Principals Association meeting at Detroit in March.

The board also approved attendance of Urban Petros, elementary supervisor; Roy Cashdollar, public school principal, Graber and Walter Lineberry, science instructor, to an education workshop at Columbus next month.

The board approved a new contract with the Youngstown School for the Deaf for Howard Johnston of Negley Rd., who has been attending the school, and accepted a recommendation of the Ohio Edison Co. for a commercial rate contract for the high school rather than a higher present rate.

VanHorne today reported the total cost of lighting, fence and improvement at the athletic field was $15,593. This was paid for by a drive which netted $13,137 in contributions and the remainder paid by the Beaver Local Athletic Association.

The project included $11,614 for lights and transformers, $1,791 for steel fence, $1,491 for scoreboard and the remainder for metal beams, wiring and lumber.

L. R. BROWN
Ends 37 Years Of Service.

Cecil R. Hodgson of Beaver has been appointed manager of the Midland plant of the Mackintosh-Hemphill Division of the E. W. Bliss Co., succeeding Lawrence R. Brown, who is retiring after 37 years service.

Three other appointments at Midland, including two from East Liverpool, were announced by Charles E. Peterson, manager of the Mackintosh-Hemphill Division.

James A. Pryor, 1798 Michigan Ave., has been named production control supervisor and Ronald Talbott, 1623 Cleveland Ave., plant accountant. Wilson Rhodes of Beaver R. D. 1 has been appointed superintendent of foundry operations.

"Red" Hodgson has been with Mackintosh since June, 1938, when he was hired as a molder. He worked for other firms previously also served six years with the Army Coast Artillery in Hawaii.

He became a working foreman in 1938 and in 1942 was appointed foundry foreman. He became superintendent of operations of the Midland plant in 1949 and later, assistant plant manager, a position he held until his new appointment. He has about 25 years with Mackintosh-Hemphill.

Mr. and Mrs. Hodgson reside at 30 Tusca Glen, Beaver. His son, Norbert, is sales engineer for slag handling equipment and other steel castings which are produced at the Midland plant.

Brown's retirement is effective at the end of February. Aside from a three-year spell with another firm, all of his active career has been spent with Mackintosh-Hemphill.

He spent two years wartime flying service with the Army Air Corps, from which he was discharged as a second lieutenant some months after the Armistice.

The comedian was admitted at St. John's Tuesday and Dr. William C. Pomeroy Jr. said he would remain until Thursday for "a much needed rest" and a two-day checkup.

But after dinner Skelton packed up and went home. Pomeroy said Skelton would fight his fatigue in his own residence.

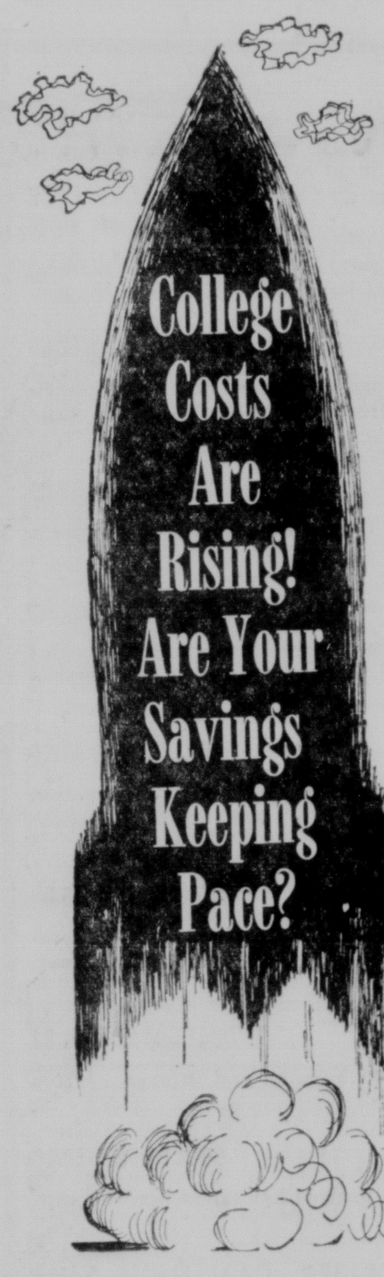
60 YEARS OF FRIENDLY SERVICE



RIGHT NOW it costs about $6,000 to give a youngster a four year college education. By 1980 this figure may well reach $8,000.

If you have been setting aside funds to build a go-to-college fund, now may be the time to review the situation and increase the monthly amount. If you haven't started, certainly now is the time to begin.

When you save here, the earnings paid on your savings can do one of two things for you . . . increase the total dollars in your account over and above the figure you need . . . or, shorten the time needed to save a specified amount. Either way, it's worthwhile to save here where savings earn in safety, are always on hand in the event of need.

HAL HUMPHREY

Why Can't We Laugh At Nat And Dorothy?

Dorothy Dandridge and Nat King Cole are looking for a sponsor with the courage to star them in a TV situation comedy.

Hal Humphrey

"We have two or three ideas about such a series," Dorothy reports. "There could be this small-time pair of married performers and all of the things that happen to them as they climb to success. Or we thought maybe Nat might play himself, and I would be his secretary who is stage struck."

Ideas for the show aren't Nat and Dorothy's big worry. It's finding a sponsor who is willing to consider them as two talented performers first, and Negroes second.

-:-

"WE NEGROES finally convinced the entertainment world not to stereotype us as just maids and porters. But now too many producers are afraid to use us at all. Rather than do wrong, they do nothing," Dorothy says.

She does not absolve her own race from all the blame, either. When Dorothy was getting ready to do the "Porgy and Bess" movie, she was pressured by various Negro groups not to do the role of Bess. As a result, she says she found it extremely difficult to play the part honestly.

"I enjoyed the 'Amos and Andy' TV series — at least those I saw. But whatever happened to it?" she asks.

-:-

MILLIONS of viewers enjoyed that series, but only 78 were produced. The Negro press and Negro organizations protested enough to scare off national sponsors. The films went into syndication, however, and on a regional basis have been rerun countless times to high audience ratings.

Ironically, when Nat Cole had his own show on NBC a few years ago, the network couldn't get a national sponsor. As Nat so succinctly put it at the time, "Madison Avenue is afraid of the dark."

The agency men were afraid to tout a client onto the show for fear it would hurt the client's "image" in the South. The South, meanwhile, was seeing the show each week and apparently with no ill effects to either Nat or the viewers there.

NEXT TUESDAY, Dorothy can be seen in her first dramatic TV part, despite the fact she was the first Negro to get an "Oscar" nomination as best actress (for "Carmen Jones"). She has the part of a night club singer and ex-junkie in "Cain's Hundred" (10 p.m. on Channel 3).

"I've often wondered why it is that Negroes can't play other roles, if they look right for the part. Whites play Negroes. I'll never forget when MGM had Ava Gardner do Julie in 'Showboat,' and the studio had Lena Horne under contract at the time. Ava couldn't understand it, either.

"Did I tell you I'm playing my first Indian princess? It's the movie, 'Marco Polo.' I just returned from Belgrade where some of it was filmed. I go to India soon to complete it."

DURING her recent sojourn in Europe, Dorothy frequently was asked by TV viewers there how it happened that the American shows they see do not have more Negroes in them, or why Dorothy herself didn't have her own TV series.

"It's difficult to know quite what to say," Dorothy reports. "I'm not sure I really understand it myself, especially all of this business about the advertising agencies and how they control the situation."

A lot of the difficulty could be resolved if, the next time she went to Europe, Dorothy could tell her inquisitors that she and Nat Cole were doing a situation comedy about a Negro couple in American show business.

The first episode might be about how they had to maneuver to get Madison Avenue to star them in a TV series. There ought to be a million laughs in that one.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Parent Can Help Child Stand Pain

The infant is such a tender little creature that when he gets a slight hurt you feel very anxious. Suppose he is lying on a blanket on the floor, when several months old, and rolls against the leg of a chair. You pick him up quickly, making a great fuss, fearing he is badly hurt.

Dr. Garry Meyers

Your excitement may cause the infant to cry. If you do nothing, he may not cry at all. If he rolls off a cot or bed you may be frightened and reveal your fright as you grab him up. The more calmly you can pick him up, the less frightened he will be.

AS YOUR BABY begins to creep, to pull himself up by the furniture and later to toddle, he will get many more bumps. Remember that the bumps are usually slight, for when he falls, he does not fall far. Besides, his bones are relatively soft and not easily broken.

As a rule, when a youngster falls while toddling, you are wise to let him pick himself up. When he needs first aid, try to administer it as calmly and efficiently as if you were a nurse or doctor. This is not easy to do, of course.

When he must have shots by your physician or dressing after slight surgery, the way you control your fears and actions will go far toward his calm endurance later. You will help him adjust to visiting the dentist when he is 2, 8 or 14. You will help develop his readiness later to try new physical experiences — going down a slide, riding a tricycle or learning to skate.

HOW WELL YOUR little child accepts small bumps and hurts and endures physical pain depends almost entirely on you and other persons with him.

If he becomes accustomed to little bumps and hurts and normal physical pain, this will lessen most physical fears he may have later in normal play and in rough-and-tumble physical contests with other children.

Motorist Admits Reduced Charge And Draws Fine

James T. Herring, 37, of 335 W. 9th St. was fined $50 and costs Tuesday in Municipal Court after pleading guilty to a reckless operation count in place of the drunken driving charge placed against him initially following his arrest last Thursday night.

The charge was reduced by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a motion from Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark. At arraignment yesterday morning on the drunken driving charge, Herring had pleaded not guilty. A short time later, the assistant solicitor moved to reduce the charge.

Herring was cited at 9:48 p.m. Thursday on Avondale St. by Patrolman K. H. Mooney. His bond was set at $500 and his hearing was continued until yesterday.

Meanwhile, Roy P. Young of R. D. 1 was fined $25 and costs yesterday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a new 45-mile zone in the Cannons Mills area of Route 30. He was cited Thursday by the State Highway Patrol.

$12,500 Prizes Set To Design Park Unit

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Cincinnati civic group has set aside $12,500 in prizes for a contest open only to architects to design an Ohio riverfront park structure.

The group, the Cincinnati Association, announced the contest Tuesday and said the structure is for the 20-acre Yeatman's Cove Park in the shadow of the Centeral Bridge to Newport, Ky. A spokesman said the building should "express architecturally the flavor of the history of Cincinnati."

Why Can't We Laugh At Nat And Dorothy?

Dorothy Dandridge and Nat King Cole are looking for a sponsor with the courage to star them in a TV situation comedy.

Hal Humphrey

"We have two or three ideas about such a series," Dorothy reports. "There could be this small-time pair of married performers and all of the things that happen to them as they climb to success. Or we thought maybe Nat might play himself, and I would be his secretary who is stage struck."

Ideas for the show aren't Nat and Dorothy's big worry. It's finding a sponsor who is willing to consider them as two talented performers first, and Negroes second.

"WE NEGROES finally convinced the entertainment world not to stereotype us as just maids and porters. But now too many producers are afraid to use us at all. Rather than do wrong, they do nothing," Dorothy says.

She does not absolve her own race from all the blame, either. When Dorothy was getting ready to do the "Porgy and Bess" movie, she was pressured by various Negro groups not to do the role of Bess. As a result, she says she found it extremely difficult to play the part honestly.

"I enjoyed the 'Amos and Andy' TV series — at least those I saw. But whatever happened to it?" she asks.

-:-

MILLIONS of viewers enjoyed that series, but only 78 were produced. The Negro press and Negro organizations protested enough to scare off national sponsors. The films went into syndication, however, and on a regional basis have been rerun countless times to high audience ratings.

Ironically, when Nat Cole had his own show on NBC a few years ago, the network couldn't get a national sponsor. As Nat so succinctly put it at the time, "Madison Avenue is afraid of the dark."

The agency men were afraid to tout a client onto the show for fear it would hurt the client's "image" in the South. The South, meanwhile, was seeing the show each week and apparently with no ill effects to either Nat or the viewers there.

NEXT TUESDAY, Dorothy can be seen in her first dramatic TV part, despite the fact she was the first Negro to get an "Oscar" nomination as best actress (for "Carmen Jones"). She has the part of a night club singer and ex-junkie in "Cain's Hundred" (10 p.m. on Channel 3).

"I've often wondered why it is that Negroes can't play other roles, if they look right for the part. Whites play Negroes. I'll never forget when MGM had Ava Gardner do Julie in 'Showboat,' and the studio had Lena Horne under contract at the time. Ava couldn't understand it, either.

"Did I tell you I'm playing my first Indian princess? It's the movie, 'Marco Polo.' I just returned from Belgrade where some of it was filmed. I go to India soon to complete it."

DURING her recent sojourn in Europe, Dorothy frequently was asked by TV viewers there how it happened that the American shows they see do not have more Negroes in them, or why Dorothy herself didn't have her own TV series.

"It's difficult to know quite what to say," Dorothy reports. "I'm not sure I really understand it myself, especially all of this business about the advertising agencies and how they control the situation."

A lot of the difficulty could be resolved if, the next time she went to Europe, Dorothy could tell her inquisitors that she and Nat Cole were doing a situation comedy about a Negro couple in American show business.

The first episode might be about how they had to maneuver to get Madison Avenue to star them in a TV series. There ought to be a million laughs in that one.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Parent Can Help Child Stand Pain

The infant is such a tender little creature that when he gets a slight hurt you feel very anxious. Suppose he is lying on a blanket on the floor, when several months old, and rolls against the leg of a chair. You pick him up quickly, making a great fuss, fearing he is badly hurt. Your excitement may cause the infant to cry. If you do nothing, he may not cry at all. If he rolls off a cot or bed you may be frightened and reveal your fright as you grab him up. The more calmly you can pick him up, the less frightened he will be.

Dr. Garry Meyers

AS YOUR BABY begins to creep, to pull himself up by the furniture and later to toddle, he will get many more bumps. Remember that the bumps are usually slight, for when he falls, he does not fall far. Besides, his bones are relatively soft and not easily broken.

As a rule, when a youngster falls while toddling, you are wise to let him pick himself up. When he needs first aid, try to administer it as calmly and efficiently as if you were a nurse or doctor. This is not easy to do, of course.

When he must have shots by your physician or dressing after slight surgery, the way you control your fears and actions will go far toward his calm endurance later. You will help him adjust to visiting the dentist when he is 2, 8 or 14. You will help develop his readiness later to try new physical experiences — going down a slide, riding a tricycle or learning to skate.

HOW WELL YOUR little child accepts small bumps and hurts and endures physical pain depends almost entirely on you and other persons with him.

If he becomes accustomed to little bumps and hurts and normal physical pain, this will lessen most physical fears he may have later in normal play and in rough-and-tumble physical contests with other children.

Motorist Admits Reduced Charge And Draws Fine

James T. Herring, 37, of 335 W. 9th St. was fined $50 and costs Tuesday in Municipal Court after pleading guilty to a reckless operation count in place of the drunken driving charge placed against him initially following his arrest last Thursday night.

The charge was reduced by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a motion from Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark. At arraignment yesterday morning on the drunken driving charge, Herring had pleaded not guilty. A short time later, the assistant solicitor moved to reduce the charge.

Herring was cited at 9:48 p.m. Thursday on Avondale St. by Patrolman K. H. Mooney. His bond was set at $500 and his hearing was continued until yesterday.

Meanwhile, Roy P. Young of R. D. 1 was fined $25 and costs yesterday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a new 45-mile zone in the Cannons Mills area of Route 30. He was cited Thursday by the State Highway Patrol.

$12,500 Prizes Set To Design Park Unit

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Cincinnati civic group has set aside $12,500 in prizes for a contest open only to architects to design an Ohio riverfront park structure.

The group, the Cincinnati Association, announced the contest Tuesday and said the structure is for the 20-acre Yeatman's Cove Park in the shadow of the Centeral Bridge to Newport, Ky. A spokesman said the building should "express architecturally the flavor of the history of Cincinnati."

District Aide Is Guest

Mrs. Marie Hays Named Club 'Quotarian Of Year'

The Quotarian award and the official visit of the 6th District governor highlighted the dinner meeting of the Quota Club Tuesday night at the Travelers Hotel. Some 31 attended.

Mrs. Marie Hays was named "Quotarian of the Year" for compiling 511 community service hours. She was presented a gift by Mrs. Gladys Smith, service chairman, following a report showing 3,056 hours were totaled during the past year. Miss Phyllis Crook, president, and Mrs. Marion Thompson, honorary member, received recognition for many hours of volunteer service.

Mrs. Charlotte Shaffer of Toledo, governor, brought highlights from the recent governor's seminar held in Chicago. She spoke of Quota unity along lines of purpose, action, program, goals, activity and service, and mentioned the unified service programs for certain areas, elaborating on the Kent State Scholarship fund.

Announcing that this district is the largest in membership, Mrs. Shaffer said that a net gain of 50 is the goal for the coming year. She said a new membership guide will be released soon. She requested large representations at the international convention in New Orleans in June and the district conference September in Toledo. She was presented a gift from the club.

Guests who spoke briefly were Mrs. Marie Higgins of Youngstown, past international president and a Quotarian for 39 years; Mrs. Jean Wright, president of the Youngstown club, and Mrs. Thompson, who organized the local club. Other guests were Miss Ann Allison, a charter member, and Mrs. Gladys Lemon.

Annual reports were given by Miss Crook, Mrs. Ellen McLain, first vice president; Mrs. Ila Shingler, recording secretary; Mrs. Irma McGarey, treasurer; Miss Mildred McGregor, Hearing and Speech Clinic; Miss Justine Miller, membership; Dr. Edith Gilmore, social; Miss Gladys DeBolt, inter-club relations; Mrs. Jeannette Carpenter, ways and means; Miss Luella Thompson, audit; Mrs. Shingler, Twig, and Mrs. Dorothy Horsley and Mrs. Clara Hall, publicity.

Miss Crook extended the welcome and presided for business. An invitation was read from the Business & Professional Women's Club to attend a public card party Monday night at St. Aloysius Parochial School Hall.

Another was read from the Akron club to attend its 31st anniversary party Tuesday at the Akron Towers Motel.

Dr. Gilmore asked the group to take advantage of the Sabin polio vaccine clinic to be held by the Columbiana County Medical Society March 21-24, at Westgate School.

It was announced that the East Liverpool Teachers Association is sponsoring the appearance of Dr. Zelma George March 16 at Westgate School. She will speak on "Understanding the Negro Spiritual" with audience participation.

The Youngstown club issued an invitation to its public style show and card party April 2 at Idora Park.

The dinner was arranged by Mrs. Hays and Dr. Gilmore. A centerpiece of red carnations and white snapdragons, red tapers in silver candelabra and large valentine hearts formed table decorations. Floral placecards were used.

Next luncheon meeting is Feb. 27 at the hotel.

District Aide Is Guest

Mrs. Marie Hays Named Club 'Quotarian Of Year'

The Quotarian award and the official visit of the 6th District governor highlighted the dinner meeting of the Quota Club Tuesday night at the Travelers Hotel. Some 31 attended.

Mrs. Marie Hays was named "Quotarian of the Year" for compiling 511 community service hours. She was presented a gift by Mrs. Gladys Smith, service chairman, following a report showing 3,056 hours were totaled during the past year. Miss Phyllis Crook, president, and Mrs. Marion Thompson, honorary member, received recognition for many hours of volunteer service.

Mrs. Charlotte Shaffer of Toledo, governor, brought highlights from the recent governor's seminar held in Chicago. She spoke of Quota unity along lines of purpose, action, program, goals, activity and service, and mentioned the unified service programs for certain areas, elaborating on the Kent State Scholarship fund.

Announcing that this district is the largest in membership, Mrs. Shaffer said that a net gain of 50 is the goal for the coming year. She said a new membership guide will be released soon. She requested large representations at the international convention in New Orleans in June and the district conference September in Toledo. She was presented a gift from the club.

Guests who spoke briefly were Mrs. Marie Higgins of Youngstown, past international president and a Quotarian for 39 years; Mrs. Jean Wright, president of the Youngstown club, and Mrs. Thompson, who organized the local club. Other guests were Miss Ann Allison, a charter member, and Mrs. Gladys Lemon.

Annual reports were given by Miss Crook, Mrs. Ellen McLain, first vice president; Mrs. Ila Shingler, recording secretary; Mrs. Irma McGarey, treasurer; Miss Mildred McGregor, Hearing and Speech Clinic; Miss Justine Miller, membership; Dr. Edith Gilmore, social; Miss Gladys DeBolt, inter-club relations; Mrs. Jeannette Carpenter, ways and means; Miss Luella Thompson, audit; Mrs. Shingler, Twig, and Mrs. Dorothy Horsley and Mrs. Clara Hall, publicity.

Miss Crook extended the welcome and presided for business. An invitation was read from the Business & Professional Women's Club to attend a public card party Monday night at St. Aloysius Parochial School Hall.

Another was read from the Akron club to attend its 31st anniversary party Tuesday at the Akron Towers Motel.

Dr. Gilmore asked the group to take advantage of the Sabin polio vaccine clinic to be held by the Columbiana County Medical Society March 21-24, at Westgate School.

It was announced that the East Liverpool Teachers Association is sponsoring the appearance of Dr. Zelma George March 16 at Westgate School. She will speak on "Understanding the Negro Spiritual" with audience participation.

The Youngstown club issued an invitation to its public style show and card party April 2 at Idora Park.

The dinner was arranged by Mrs. Hays and Dr. Gilmore. A centerpiece of red carnations and white snapdragons, red tapers in silver candelabra and large valentine hearts formed table decorations. Floral placecards were used.

Next luncheon meeting is Feb. 27 at the hotel.

When you are using canned tomatoes in chili con carne, add a suspicion of sugar. You won't need the sugar if you use tomato sauce or puree.

2 To Receive Degree From City DeMolay

Postmaster Samuel W. Brown, 2054 Lisbon St., and James Walker, 909 Orchard Grove Ave., will be invested with the DeMolay Degree of Legion of Honor at a ceremony of Harding Chapter Saturday night at 7:30 in the Masonic Temple.

The DeMolay Dads will receive the highest degree of the organization for those over 23. It is awarded by the International Supreme Council, with headquarters in Kansas City.

Brown served as master councilor of Harding Chapter in 1932. He received the Degree of Chevalier in 1939. Walker was master councilor in 1935 and received the Chevalier Degree in 1937.

Open to the public, the ceremony will be conducted by Arthur L. Nisbet, J. Wesley Pieper, governor of the 6th District, and Thomas Eason, past master councilor, grand commanders.

James W. Batey Jr., past master and state master councilor in 1941 and recipient of the Legion of Honor and Chevalier Degrees, will be grand chaplain. Merlyn E. Meredith, a winner of the highest award, will be grand marshal, and Robert Kidd, past master councilor and Chevalier Degree recipient, will be grand herald.

The Grand preceptors will be David Hoffman, chapter senior deacon; Roger Hicks, scribe and DeMolay representative, holder of the Blue Honor Key and chairman of the 6th District, and William Fletcher, Dale Hoffman, Edward Birch, John Geren, and David Conley.

The choir of Job's Daughters will sing and serve as grand flower attendants. The DeMolay Mothers' Circle will hold a reception later. The regular chapter meeting is Thursday night in the temple.

Paper money was first issued in the United States on March 10, 1862.

3 County Courts Pay $3,557 Into Treasury

LISBON — A total of $3,557 was paid the county treasurer by the three county courts during January, to Carl L. Stacey, clerk of courts.

A breakdown shows $2,394.45 in fines in State Highway Patrol cases and $1,162.55 in civil and criminal court costs.

The state received $1,582.35 for its 45 per cent share of the patrol fines.

The courts at Salem, East Palestine and Lisbon handled 230 criminal cases and 43 civil cases during the month.

Sheriff, constable and city police fees amounted to $190.78, Stacey said.

Activity Listed For '61

Adult Admissions Show Increase In City Hospital

Admissions to City Hospital totaled 8,895 in 1961 — an increase in adult patients and a decrease in youngsters — according to the annual summary of activities issued by Miss Nell Robinson, superintendent.

The total included 1,227 new babies (613 girls and 614 boys) and 1,362 children under 14. The adult total was 1,370 over 1959 and 116 more than 1960, Miss Robinson said.

The average hospital stay was 6.03 days.

There were 2,543 operations, including 812 major operations — of which 70 were caesarian sections — and 1,731 minor operations.

There were 193,542 meals served to patients and personnel.

The laboratory conducted 75,931 tests — 69,195 in-patients and 6,736 for out-patients — and provided 794 blood transfusions.

The X-ray department handled 10,732 patients with a total of 34,342 films and 1,917 fluoroscopic examinations. The laundry processed 483,757 pounds of flatwork and 26,974 individual items such as uniforms, aprons and caps — an increase over last year when the laundry was closed for a few weeks for installation of new equipment.

Nursing service totaled 44,571 days — including 17,834 days by nurses' aides and 16,446 by staff nurses.

New equipment provided last year included microfilming of clinical and business records, open chart files for medical records, intercom system for the obstetrical department and fan units for air conditioning system in the surgery and obstetrical departments.

New lab items included an automatic blood cell counter, microzoom microscope for more detailed histo-pathologic diagnosis, a stereo-zoom microscope for bacterial culture study and a new system of laboratory test finding records.

A battery of cook stoves, oven and two toasters were added in the kitchen along with some dining area furniture, and the system of diet requisitions was modified to provide patients an extra choice within the framework of their diets.

Additional fire extinguishers, oxygen machines, medicars, refrigerators, suction pumps, teaching unit equipment and other routine but essential items were added.

The Women's Auxiliary and affiliated Twigs completed refurbishing projects and continued assistance in library service, the Snak Bar, dressing preparations, photographing new infants and other services.

The Gray Ladies provided 12,706 hours in personal service and other work on charts, files and as hostesses. A number of groups and individuals made special gifts and bequests and various organizations assisted in the hospital program.

The School of Nursing had 40 students — 10 seniors, 16 juniors and 14 freshmen — and the school program was revised to require applicants to pass American College Entrance Tests.

Besides customary fire tests and drills, a special one-day program was held on fire prevention by a state aide. The hospital also received safety citations from the Ohio Industrial Commission.

New manuals on diet, drug and disaster programs and politics were devised with the medical staff.

Miss Robinson pointed out "the statistics of 1961 do not reveal the degree of care, sympathy and sacrifice made on behalf of patients by the staff and others in the community."

She referred to an abandoned baby boy found in a church and taken to the hospital for care, teachers who tutored pupils at the hospital, a birthday celebration for a boy hospitalized for months and other examples of men and women "contributing time, skill and interest whose reward was only the pleasure of serving others."

Lisbon Bloodmobile Visit Set March 13

LISBON — The first of two visits of the Cleveland bloodmobile for 1962 will be March 13 at the First Methodist Church from noon to 6 p.m. Local physicians and nurses will assist the staff of Cleveland Blood Center with the unit.

The American Legion Auxiliary is in charge of the recruiting and hopes to schedule 175 donors.

The blood serves the two Salem hospitals — City and Central clinic and persons needing blood get it free, except for a fee for administration.

Salem, Lisbon, Columbiana and East Palestine are co-operating in the program for 125 pints twice each year. Lisbon has not met the quota over the past years.

Information Aide

PITTSBURGH — T. M. Rutter has been appointed assistant director, information services of the Crucible Steel Co. of America. Formerly manager, promotion, Rutter has been associated with Crucible since 1952 primarily in advertising and sales promotion.

Area Captains Appointed In Heart Fund Campaign

Captains for the East Liverpool area house-to-house solicitation for the Heart Fund Feb. 25 were announced today by Mrs. Robert Bernstorf of Dairy Ln. and Mrs. William Laughlin of Homestead Dr., co-chairmen.

The canvass will be conducted by some 350 volunteer workers in the "Heart Sunday" drive which was kicked off early this week by solicitation letters mailed to business and industry leaders.

The volunteers will carry envelopes for the contributions. Smaller envelopes for mailing will be left at homes where householders are absent.

The captains include Mrs. Ralph Badgely and Mrs. Clyde Cox in the Lincoln School area, Mrs. Christie Krafft for the Horace Mann area, Mrs. Clifford Cooper for the Garfield area, Mrs. Richard Betteridge and Mrs. Samuel Parkes for the McKinley area.

Mrs. Roma Adkins for the Gardendale area, Mrs. Sidney Porter Jr. and Mrs. William Webber, Taft School area; Mrs. Clark Hager, Klondyke; Mrs. Donald Schussler, Pleasant Heights; Mrs. Lois Cornman, Neville; Mrs. Robert Laughlin and Miss Patsy Black, Market St. west.

Mrs. Roy Davis, Dixonville; Mrs. Edward Cranston, Westfield; Mrs. Carl Mack and Mrs. Reid Densmore, LaCroft, and Mrs. Wayne Barnard, Glenmoor.

Captains still are needed for the West End, Grant St. and Shadyside and Radio Heights area, and anyone interested in serving may notify Mrs. Bernstorf.

The main solicitation is to take place between 2 and 4 p.m. on Feb. 25, but volunteers may solicit at different times for their convenience, the co-chairmen said.

The drive, sponsored by the Columbiana County Heart Council, netted over $4,000 last year.

Activity Listed For '61

Adult Admissions Show Increase In City Hospital

Admissions to City Hospital totaled 8,895 in 1961 — an increase in adult patients and a decrease in youngsters — according to the annual summary of activities issued by Miss Nell Robinson, superintendent.

The total included 1,227 new babies (613 girls and 614 boys) and 1,362 children under 14. The adult total was 1,370 over 1959 and 116 more than 1960, Miss Robinson said.

The average hospital stay was 6.03 days.

There were 2,543 operations, including 812 major operations — of which 70 were caesarian sections — and 1,731 minor operations.

There were 193,542 meals served to patients and personnel.

The laboratory conducted 75,931 tests — 69,195 in-patients and 6,736 for out-patients — and provided 794 blood transfusions.

The X-ray department handled 10,732 patients with a total of 34,342 films and 1,917 fluoroscopic examinations. The laundry processed 483,757 pounds of flatwork and 26,974 individual items such as uniforms, aprons and caps — an increase over last year when the laundry was closed for a few weeks for installation of new equipment.

Nursing service totaled 44,571 days — including 17,834 days by nurses' aides and 16,446 by staff nurses.

New equipment provided last year included microfilming of clinical and business records, open chart files for medical records, intercom system for the obstetrical department and fan units for air conditioning system in the surgery and obstetrical departments.

New lab items included an automatic blood cell counter, microzoom microscope for more detailed histo-pathologic diagnosis, a stereo-zoom microscope for bacterial culture study and a new system of laboratory test finding records.

A battery of cook stoves, oven and two toasters were added in the kitchen along with some dining area furniture, and the system of diet requisitions was modified to provide patients an extra choice within the framework of their diets.

Additional fire extinguishers, oxygen machines, medicars, refrigerators, suction pumps, teaching unit equipment and other routine but essential items were added.

The Women's Auxiliary and affiliated Twigs completed refurbishing projects and continued assistance in library service, the Snak Bar, dressing preparations, photographing new infants and other services.

The Gray Ladies provided 12,706 hours in personal service and other work on charts, files and as hostesses. A number of groups and individuals made special gifts and bequests and various organizations assisted in the hospital program.

The School of Nursing had 40 students — 10 seniors, 16 juniors and 14 freshmen — and the school program was revised to require applicants to pass American College Entrance Tests.

Besides customary fire tests and drills, a special one-day program was held on fire prevention by a state aide. The hospital also received safety citations from the Ohio Industrial Commission.

New manuals on diet, drug and disaster programs and politics were devised with the medical staff.

Miss Robinson pointed out "the statistics of 1961 do not reveal the degree of care, sympathy and sacrifice made on behalf of patients by the staff and others in the community."

She referred to an abandoned baby boy found in a church and taken to the hospital for care, teachers who tutored pupils at the hospital, a birthday celebration for a boy hospitalized for months and other examples of men and women "contributing time, skill and interest whose reward was only the pleasure of serving others."

Lisbon Bloodmobile Visit Set March 13

LISBON — The first of two visits of the Cleveland bloodmobile for 1962 will be March 13 at the First Methodist Church from noon to 6 p.m. Local physicians and nurses will assist the staff of Cleveland Blood Center with the unit.

The American Legion Auxiliary is in charge of the recruiting and hopes to schedule 175 donors.

The blood serves the two Salem hospitals — City and Central clinic and persons needing blood get it free, except for a fee for administration.

Salem, Lisbon, Columbiana and East Palestine are co-operating in the program for 125 pints twice each year. Lisbon has not met the quota over the past years.

Information Aide

PITTSBURGH — T. M. Rutter has been appointed assistant director, information services of the Crucible Steel Co. of America. Formerly manager, promotion, Rutter has been associated with Crucible since 1952 primarily in advertising and sales promotion.

Students To See Car Operated By Sun At Assembly

East Liverpool High School students will see a car run solely by the power of the sun and synthetic rubber manufactured in a pop bottle in 60 seconds during a "Previews of Progress" assembly Friday at 10 a. m. in Memorial Auditorium.

Presented by the General Motors Corp., the demonstration is aimed at encouraging youth to pursue studies in science and engineering and point out some of the opportunities.

David Phillips and Michael Krawcheck, GM science lecturers, will present the program.

In addition to a demonstration of the "sunmobile," the program will show how "liquid sunshine" can provide energy to operate a portable radio, a "capsule" history of the jet engine along with a miniature gas turbine engine which may power tomorrow's cars, a new foam plastic being used for crash pads in aircraft and autos, a new glass harder than steel for use in the nose cones of intercontinental missiles and a demonstration of gyroscopes.

Stanton 'Scared' Before Posting 2nd Perfect Season

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Diehl's Outfit Survives 44-39 Win At United

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

Experiencing a most exasperating game, Stanton Local's Red Raiders barely survived a pressurized finish in edging United, 44-39, to clinch their second perfect season in a row Tuesday night at Hanoverton.

Following up a 16-0 record of last year with 18 straight victories in this campaign, the Irondale five thus became the first area squad to attain one of the most difficult accomplishments in sports.

The concluding game proved to be the hardest for Coach Harry Diehl's club as the Red Raiders turned in one of their few poor performances and never played like Ohio's No. 3 rated team in any instance.

The pressure of the finish was evident in the Stanton lockerroom at the conclusion as a nervous Diehl surveyed the effects of United's full-court pressing defense that almost snatched victory away from his normally solid club.

"THEY really had us worried," Diehl declared. "We were way off our usual game tonight and I'm sure glad it's over," he added. The Red Raiders were so spent afterwards that they even neglected the traditional dunk in the showers for their young coach.

Stanton came from behind at the outset of the third period to pull in front and hold a slim lead to the finish behind the clutch shooting of Marlon McCuen, 6-2 junior, and All-Ohio Don (The Stilt) Spires, 6-6 center.

The Red Raiders were only two points ahead, 41-39, with 49 seconds left in the game and at that point it appeared the unheralded United quint was on the way to the upset of the year.

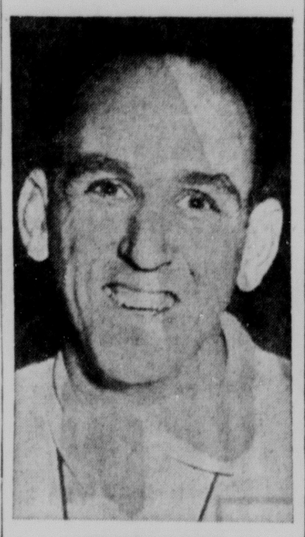
But in a desperate struggle to gain possession in the fading moments, United committed several costly fouls and the two conversions by Jim Leedy and another by McCuen insured the narrow victory for Stanton Local.

It was the closest verdict of the year for the Red Raiders, and poor shooting almost denied them their rightful place in posterity as the most successful team in the school's history.



HARRY DIEHL
Waves Magic Wand Again.

THEY made 19 of 50 shots for a respectable 38% average from the floor, but the figures actually belie the unusually ragged way they went about it.

Only a clutch performance by McCuen, who scored nine points, all in the second half, and the rebounding strength of Spires (16) and Curt Rose (13) saved them from defeat.

Coach Larry Joseph's Golden Eagles (9-8) displayed a hustling defense and a sharp outside attack led by Jerry Schaffer, 6-0 senior.

With Schaffer scoring 19 points on outside jump shots and John Hanna, 5-10 guard, hitting 12, the Eagles were all determination in their strong upset bid.

—:—

STANTON'S high - powered attack which had been averaging over 70 points per outing was weakened by an off night by Bob Mills, who hit a new low in scoring with seven points.

Spires got 19 of Stanton's points, and the others were shared rather evenly between the starting five, save for Rose who failed to tally from the field and finished with one free throw.

The good effort leaves the consistent Spires only a little shy of matching his total point production of all last year. The big center has 460 in 18 games, 5 short of 465 he scored in Stanton's 19-1 season as a junior.

Safely past the last hurdle behind a spectacular march toward two perfect seasons, the Red Raiders now turn their attention to the Jefferson County Class A tournament opening Thursday night at Brilliant.

They begin action in the second game of a triple - header as the top-seeded squad and defending county champion. The opening opponent is Adena, fifth strongest in a field of nine teams.

In the preliminary, the United reserves seized command early and went on to defeat the Stanton Local reserves of Coach Don McBride, 46-38.

McGranahan's 16 points led the winners, while Scott Porter scored 14 and Larry Mills 12 for Stanton Local.

Newell Five Makes It Two Straight Over Chester; Bell Nets 28 Points

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

With southpaw Dave Bell leading all five starters into the double figures, Newell High's ambitious cagers made it two straight this season over their backyard rival —Chester—by posting a 73-57 victory Tuesday on the Wells High court.

A near full - house was on hand to see Newell enlarge the margin a 37-28 halftime lead and then built the advantage to 55-43 after three quarters.

UP UNTIL the fourth quarter, Bell was "ringing" the nets at a sub-par pace for a cager averaging better than 22 points a game. After three quarters Bell showed 14 points.

The 5-foot-9 junior, who fires deadly left handed jump shots from all over the front court, hit for a sizzling 14 points in the last eight minutes of play to wind up with 28 markers for the night.

His scoring total came on 12 field goals and four of five charity tosses. The 28 pushed him past Staley as Newell's leading scorer.

Bell now has 436 while Staley, who hit for 14 points Tuesday, night ran his count to 434. It's not often that two teammates hit over 400 apiece in one season.

COACH John Robison was pretty well pleased with the performance by his starting unit. They were all in the double figures. Behind Bell and Staley were Jim Johnson who canned 11 points and Sam Simmons and Reed chipped in with 10 apiece. Only the five starters scored for Newell.

Jerry Smith, who wound up top man for Chester with 18 points, scored 11 in the first half but had a difficult time getting started in the second half. Six of his seven points scored in the last two periods came in the final moments of the contest.

Behind Smith was junior Jim Tridico, a consistent scorer who fired in 14 markers. Blaine Pinney added nine to the attack.

TUTTLE lost two of his starters for several minutes with ankle and knee injuries. Bob Myers was slowed by an ankle injury with 2:29 remaining in the first period and didn't return until the second half.

Pinney twisted his knee slightly with 6:23 left in the fourth quarter but returned late in the game.

The only cager to foul out was Bell who left with only three seconds remaining in the contest.

Chester nearing the end of the 1961-62 trail, plays West Liberty at home Friday and then travels to Follansbee Feb. 23.

Newell made it a clean sweep when the Viking reserve squad nipped Chester, 31-30. Gary Rayle's 11 and Rick Ferrell's 10 points paced the winners.

Chuck Mullen accounted for 10 of Chester's total.

Celtics Wallop Packers, Royals Blast Warriors

By The Associated Press

The Boston Celtics don't scare easily and their Eastern Division supremacy seems virtually assured for another National Basketball Association season.

The Philadelphia Warriors had crept to within 5½ games of the Celts over the weekend and if Boston was due to fade, this was the time. But the Celtics won Tuesday night and the Warriors lost, and Boston's first place lead over Philadelphia was back to 6½ games.

The Celts crushed the Chicago Packers 138-117 in Providence while the Royals were walloping the Warriors 152-132 in Cincinnati despite Wilt Chamberlain's 65 points. No other games were played.

Mrs. Moody Jolley's Ridan, winner of all seven races as a 2 year old in 1961, was purchased as a yearling for $11,000 by the owner's husband.

Stanton 'Scared' Before Posting 2nd Perfect Season

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Diehl's Outfit Survives 44-39 Win At United

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

Experiencing a most exasperating game, Stanton Local's Red Raiders barely survived a pressurized finish in edging United, 44-39, to clinch their second perfect season in a row Tuesday night at Hanoverton.

Following up a 16-0 record of last year with 18 straight victories in this campaign, the Irondale five thus became the first area squad to attain one of the most difficult accomplishments in sports.

The concluding game proved to be the hardest for Coach Harry Diehl's club as the Red Raiders turned in one of their few poor performances and never played like Ohio's No. 3 rated team in any instance.

The pressure of the finish was evident in the Stanton lockerroom at the conclusion as a nervous Diehl surveyed the effects of United's full-court pressing defense that almost snatched victory away from his normally solid club.

"THEY really had us worried," Diehl declared. "We were way off our usual game tonight and I'm sure glad it's over," he added. The Red Raiders were so spent afterwards that they even neglected the traditional dunk in the showers for their young coach.

Stanton came from behind at the outset of the third period to pull in front and hold a slim lead to the finish behind the clutch shooting of Marlon McCuen, 6-2 junior, and All-Ohio Don (The Stilt) Spires, 6-6 center.

The Red Raiders were only two points ahead, 41-39, with 49 seconds left in the game and at that point it appeared the unheralded United quint was on the way to the upset of the year.

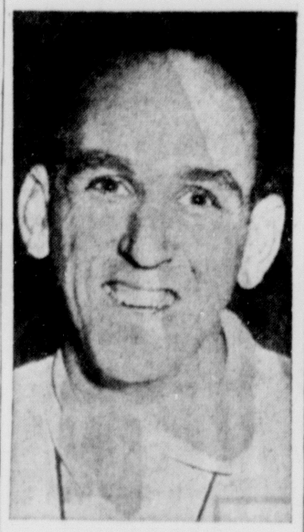
But in a desperate struggle to gain possession in the fading moments, United committed several costly fouls and the two conversions by Jim Leedy and another by McCuen insured the narrow victory for Stanton Local.

It was the closest verdict of the year for the Red Raiders, and poor shooting almost denied them their rightful place in posterity as the most successful team in the school's history.



HARRY DIEHL
Waves Magic Wand Again.

THEY made 19 of 50 shots for a respectable 38% average from the floor, but the figures actually belie the unusually ragged way they went about it.

Only a clutch performance by McCuen, who scored nine points, all in the second half, and the rebounding strength of Spires (16) and Curt Rose (13) saved them from defeat.

Coach Larry Joseph's Golden Eagles (9-8) displayed a hustling defense and a sharp outside attack led by Jerry Schaffer, 6-0 senior.

With Schaffer scoring 19 points on outside jump shots and John Hanna, 5-10 guard, hitting 12, the Eagles were all determination in their strong upset bid.

—:—

STANTON'S high - powered attack which had been averaging over 70 points per outing was weakened by an off night by Bob Mills, who hit a new low in scoring with seven points.

Spires got 19 of Stanton's points, and the others were shared rather evenly between the starting five, save for Rose who failed to tally from the field and finished with one free throw.

The good effort leaves the consistent Spires only a little shy of matching his total point production of all last year. The big center has 460 in 18 games, 5 short of 465 he scored in Stanton's 19-1 season as a junior.

Safely past the last hurdle behind a spectacular march toward two perfect seasons, the Red Raiders now turn their attention to the Jefferson County Class A tournament opening Thursday night at Brilliant.

They begin action in the second game of a triple - header as the top-seeded squad and defending county champion. The opening opponent is Adena, fifth strongest in a field of nine teams.

In the preliminary, the United reserves seized command early and went on to defeat the Stanton Local reserves of Coach Don McBride, 46-38.

McGranahan's 16 points led the winners, while Scott Porter scored 14 and Larry Mills 12 for Stanton Local.

Newell Five Makes It Two Straight Over Chester; Bell Nets 28 Points

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

With southpaw Dave Bell leading all five starters into the double figures, Newell High's ambitious cagers made it two straight this season over their backyard rival —Chester—by posting a 73-57 victory Tuesday on the Wells High court.

A near full - house was on hand to see Newell enlarge the margin a 37-28 halftime lead and then built the advantage to 55-43 after three quarters.

UP UNTIL the fourth quarter, Bell was "ringing" the nets at a sub-par pace for a cager averaging better than 22 points a game. After three quarters Bell showed 14 points.

The 5-foot-9 junior, who fires deadly left handed jump shots from all over the front court, hit for a sizzling 14 points in the last eight minutes of play to wind up with 28 markers for the night.

His scoring total came on 12 field goals and four of five charity tosses. The 28 pushed him past Staley as Newell's leading scorer.

Bell now has 436 while Staley, who hit for 14 points Tuesday, night ran his count to 434. It's not often that two teammates hit over 400 apiece in one season.

COACH John Robison was pretty well pleased with the performance by his starting unit. They were all in the double figures. Behind Bell and Staley were Jim Johnson who canned 11 points and Sam Simmons and Reed chipped in with 10 apiece. Only the five starters scored for Newell.

Jerry Smith, who wound up top man for Chester with 18 points, scored 11 in the first half but had a difficult time getting started in the second half. Six of his seven points scored in the last two periods came in the final moments of the contest.

Behind Smith was junior Jim Tridico, a consistent scorer who fired in 14 markers. Blaine Pinney added nine to the attack.

TUTTLE lost two of his starters for several minutes with ankle and knee injuries. Bob Myers was slowed by an ankle injury with 2:29 remaining in the first period and didn't return until the second half.

Pinney twisted his knee slightly with 6:23 left in the fourth quarter but returned late in the game.

The only cager to foul out was Bell who left with only three seconds remaining in the contest.

Chester nearing the end of the 1961-62 trail, plays West Liberty at home Friday and then travels to Follansbee Feb. 23.

Newell made it a clean sweep when the Viking reserve squad nipped Chester, 31-30. Gary Rayle's 11 and Rick Ferrell's 10 points paced the winners.

Chuck Mullen accounted for 10 of Chester's total.

The victory pushed Newell's season record to 13-6 with only one game remaining on the 1961-62 schedule and that is with Malvern Friday night at Newell.

—:—

COACH Max Tuttle's Chester five, which had come to life lately by winning five out of six games, bowed for the 10th time this year while showing eight victories.

After the score see-sawed back and forth in the first period, Newell, led by Jim Reed's seven markers, finally moved out to a 17-12 margin after the first eight minutes of play.

The Panthers got within one point twice midway in the second quarter, 22-21 and 25-24, but Staley swished into two field goals while Reed dropped in a pair of fouls to push the lead to 31-24.

Celtics Wallop Packers, Royals Blast Warriors

By The Associated Press

The Boston Celtics don't scare easily and their Eastern Division supremacy seems virtually assured for another National Basketball Association season.

The Philadelphia Warriors had crept to within 5½ games of the Celts over the weekend and if Boston was due to fade, this was the time. But the Celtics won Tuesday night and the Warriors lost, and Boston's first place lead over Philadelphia was back to 6½ games.

The Celts crushed the Chicago Packers 138-117 in Providence while the Royals were walloping the Warriors 152-132 in Cincinnati despite Wilt Chamberlain's 65 points. No other games were played.

Mrs. Moody Jolley's Ridan, winner of all seven races as a 2 year old in 1961, was purchased as a yearling for $11,000 by the owner's husband.

Midland Rolls To 12th Loop Win; Countdown Reaches 2

Wellsville Hangs On For 54-52 Win Over West Branch

Aloi, Sallis Team Up For 48 Markers In Rout Over Rams

By ANDY NUZZO

The Midland Leopards had little difficulty in securing their 12th consecutive Section 8 victory when they ran roughshod over the Rochester Rams, 78-42, at Rochester Tuesday night.

It also was the 22nd consecutive win of the season and the 25th consecutive over two years for Hank Kuzma's cagers.

Monaca stayed right on Midland's heels as they defeated Freedom, 81-65, and all eyes are now focusing on the Feb. 20th meeting between Midland and Monaca in the Indians' tiny tepee. The game is already a sell-out and there will be no tickets sold at the door.

On Friday night Midland has a breather when they take on the youthful Riverside Panthers, who have yet to win a game this season.

MONACA has a much harder task Friday night. They must travel to Beaver to take on the unpredictable Bobcats. A Monaca loss and a Midland win Friday night would give Midland the Section 8 crown.

Midland jumped off to a quick 13-0 lead Tuesday night and Rochester was never in the game. The Rams didn't register a field goal until the clock showed 34 seconds remaining in the opening period. Art Coleman broke the ice with a jumper from the side.

The Leopards led 18-5 at the quarter mark, pushed it to 39-12 at the half and 60-24 at the three-quarter mark.

The Leopards showed another well-balanced attack, with four starters scoring in double figures. Al Aloi was again in fine form as he meshed nine baskets and seven of 11 free throws for 25 points. He registered most of his two-pointers on long jumpers from the corners.

—:—

BILL Sallis was right behind Aloi with 23 markers, hitting frequently with a jumper from around the foul line. He had seven fielders and nine of nine free throws.

Rich Lake contributed 11 points along with five assists and another fine defensive game. Sam Forester played another steady game, dropping in 10 points from underneath.

Art Coleman was the only bright spot in the Ram attack, whipping in 14 points on five fielders and four of six free throws. He also was the high rebounder of the night, pulling down 17 strays.

—:—

THE LEOPARDS had another good night from the field, ripping the cords on 27 of 67 field goal attempts for 40 per cent. Rochester could only can 16 of 65 attempts for 25 per cent.

Both teams pulled down 46 rebounds. Sallis was high for Midland with 14, followed by Aloi with nine and Forester with eight.

In the preliminary, Ed Olkowski's Midland Reserves let a 10-point lead go by the boards and were edged in the final 10 seconds, 37-36, by Rochester. Ray Hoppa was high for Midland with 18 points.

Southwest Shows Five Contenders

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

They could call the Southwest Conference the leapfrog league of college basketball.

The standings are scrambled with virtually every game, and heading into the final third of the conference schedule five of the eight clubs must be considered definite title contenders and still another a definite possibility.

Tuesday night, for instance, defending champion Texas Tech appeared a good bet to lengthen its Southwest lead in a home-court game against Southern Methodist—but instead got whacked by the Mustangs 68-63.

Texas A&M's Aggies trimmed Texas 54-48, Rice beat Arkansas 63-55, and Texas Christian clipped Baylor 80-66 in a meeting between the conference's two bottom clubs. The results left Tech, SMU and Texas A&M tied at the top with 6-3 records, Rice next at 5-4, Texas at 4-4 Arkansas 4-5, TCU 3-5, and Baylor 1-8.

SMU, loser at home to Tech earlier this season, led the Red Raiders by as many as 11 points, but for the most part it was a close one. Jan Loudermilk was high for the Mustangs with 19 points, while Mac Percival had 24 for Tech.

In another tight conference race, Duke's seventh-ranked Blue Devils (16-3) took back first place in the Atlantic Coast with a 79-53 runaway at Maryland. Duke now has a 9-2 conference mark to 8-2 for Wake Forest—with a meeting between the two coming up Thursday night at the Deacons' court.

Tom Wynne's two free throws with 25 seconds to go in the second overtime period enabled St. Joseph's (Pa.) to maintain its unbeaten record in the Middle Atlantic conference with an 80-79 victory over Gettysburg.

Bowling Green (17-2) pushed closer to the Mid-American Conference title by knocking off Kent State 82-70. Howie Komives scored 34 points for the 10th ranked Falcons, while Nate Thurmond controlled the backboards with 23 rebounds.

Connecticut continued its long-standing home-court domination over Massachusetts and tightened up the Yankee Conference, whipping the Redmen 72-56. Massachusetts, still without a victory at Connecticut since 1936, is first in the league at 6-2 with two games left, while Connecticut is 5-2 with three to go.

In the upset department: Rhode Island stopped Providence 71-61, ending the Friars' winning streak at 10, and Marquette surprised Detroit 73-66.

Only five members of the Syracuse University swimming team come from outside New York state. Thomas Watts, a junior, lives farthest away — St. Petersburg, Fla.

McDevitt's Five Posts 7th Decision; Ours, Baldwin Set Pace

Wellsville hung tight at the end to come up with its seventh victory in 16 starts by nipping West Branch, 54-52, Tuesday night at Beacom Memorial Gym.

West Branch, which defeated the Tigers soundly a year ago with practically the same outfit, dropped its fourth game in 16 outings this season.

Both teams fought through a nip-and-tuck first quarter, but West Branch came on strong in the closing minute of the period to knot the count at 15-15.

—:—

THE dogfight for the lead continued through the second quarter until Coach Jack McDevitt received some clutch shooting from Ed Nelson, Roger Ours and Steve Baldwin that pushed the Tigers into a 34-26 halftime advantage.

In the second period, when Wellsville came up with a working edge, Nelson and Ours dropped in six points each while Baldwin added four.

The Tigers protected the margin pretty well through the third period and took a 46-40 lead into the final eight minutes.

WELLSVILLE'S freeze was not quite adequate and the Tigers lost the ball and missed free throws in the final minutes as West Branch closed the gap but not quite enough.

Sparking Wellsville's second straight victory were Ours and Baldwin. Ours turned in a 17-point performance while Baldwin hit the cords for 15. Forrest Harris chipped in with a valuable nine markers.

Actually, Wellsville's victory was posted at the foul line. Outdistanced from the field, 23-22, the Tigers dropped in 10 of 15 charity attempts while West Branch made good on six of 11.

THREE West Branch starters tied for honors as they scored 12 points each. Gathering the even dozen were Dan Dennis, Dan Henricks and Dick Wallace.

For Wellsville its 16 games down and two to go as the Tigers entertain Toronto Friday night and then close out the regular campaign at East Liverpool next Tuesday.

Wellsville's reserve squad faced an unbeaten West Branch Jayvee team and became its 15th straight victim, 51-44. Peach and Barber paced the winners with 13 each while Andy Dash and Milton Martin had 15 and 12 points respectively for Coach Chick McMillan's young Tigers.

WELLSVILLE—54

Steers Seen On Way To Another ABL Title

By The Associated Press

The Kansas City Steers, first half champions of the American Basketball League, seem to be well on the way to the second half Western Division title.

They made it 5 straight and 12 of 16 by beating the Chicago Majors 97-91 Tuesday night. The San Francisco Saints, who only a few weeks ago topped the Western Division with a 7-0 mark.

Bauer And Athletics Look For Berth In First Division

By HANK BAUER

KANSAS CITY (AP) — I think our club is definitely stronger than last season. With a little luck we could contend for a berth in the first division.

Our biggest weakness last season was in our outfield. This year it can't help but be better with the addition of Gino Cimoli, whom we acquired in the minor league draft; Bill Lajoie, a recent acquisition from the Los Angeles Dodgers, and Manual Jimenez, who we obtained from the Milwaukee Braves.

Cimoli is a proven big leaguer and is only 32 years old. In 1957, he hit .293 for the Dodgers and played in the All-Star game. Last year, Lajoie finished third in the American Association batting race with a .320 mark at Omaha. Jimenez hit .325 in the Pacific Coast League with 17 homers and 76 RBI.

Another spot that could show considerable improvement is the pitching staff. Norm Bass, Jim Archer, Bill Kunkel and Ed Radow should do much better with a year of major league experience under their belts. I look for Jerry Walker to regain the form he showed while at Baltimore when he became the youngest pitcher in big league history to win an All-Star game.

The strong point of our club is our infield with Norm Siebern at first base, Jerry Lumpe at second, Dick Howser at short and Wayne Causey at third.

We still need some help in the outfielder where the most glaring weakness is lack of a right-handed power hitter, and in pitching where we need a left-handed relief pitcher.

The Yankees are again the team to beat. Detroit was a good club, but the Tigers lack a good relief pitcher and bench strength.

Colt League To Hold Meeting Thursday

Have Some Hard Luck

FAIRBURY, Ill. (AP) — Fire Chief Oscar Hannie was driving to a fire when his car collided with one driven by Chris Gerber. His wife, who witnessed the collision from the porch of their home, started back into the house to get a coat. She slipped and suffered a double fracture of the right arm in the fall.

A relative took Mrs. Hannie to the hospital while Hannie got a ride to the fire in another car.

NCAA Attempts To Form Own Track, Gym Bodies

CHICAGO (AP) — The breach between the NCAA and AAU doesn't appear to be closing although it is being filled up with meetings.

Official organization of federations in track and field and gymnastics will come at March 4-5 meetings in Chicago, Walt Myers, NCAA executive director, announced Tuesday.

A basketball federation already has been launched.

A prompt move forward for organizing federations in track and field and gymnastics was endorsed Tuesday by forces of the NCAA and the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations. The association is represented in every state except Texas.

The action, coming a day after a peace parley between leadres of the NCAA and AAU ended in failure, was interpreted as additional NCAA pressure in its battle over control of U.S. amateur athletics and for international recognition.

The AAU is recognized as the nation's international representative, setting policy and exercising jurisdiction. The NCAA feels the AAU has done a poor job and has initiated formation of federations.

Gettysburg Star Hits 22 For 22 From Foul Stripe

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ron Warner, Gettysburg's basketball star, may have set a national record for consecutive free throws made in one game but it still must be verified by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Warner made 22 out of 22 Tuesday night as his team lost 80-79 to St. Joseph's of Philadelphia in double overtime. Warner, a 5-10 senior from York, Pa., finished with 34 points.

York Larese, formerly of North Carolina and now with the Philadelphia Warriors, tied the national free throw record of 21 in a row during the 1959-60 season against Duke in the Dixie Classic. The 21 mark first was established in 1956-57 by Johnny Lee of Yale against Oregon State.

San Antonio, Tex. — Curtis Cokes, 146, Dallas, outpointed Kid Rayo, 144, Nicaragua, 10.

Revere, Mass.—Bob Fosmire, 145, Boston, knocked out Billy Robinson, 145, Baltimore, 3.

They could call the Southwest Conference the leapfrog league of college basketball.

The standings are scrambled with virtually every game, and heading into the final third of the conference schedule five of the eight clubs must be considered definite title contenders and still another a definite possibility.

Tuesday night, for instance, defending champion Texas Tech appeared a good bet to lengthen its Southwest lead in a home-court game against Southern Methodist—but instead got whacked by the Mustangs 68-63.

Texas A&M's Aggies trimmed Texas 54-48, Rice beat Arkansas 63-55, and Texas Christian clipped Baylor 80-66 in a meeting between the conference's two bottom clubs. The results left Tech, SMU and Texas A&M tied at the top with 6-3 records, Rice next at 5-4, Texas at 4-4 Arkansas 4-5, TCU 3-5, and Baylor 1-8.

SMU, loser at home to Tech earlier this season, led the Red Raiders by as many as 11 points, but for the most part it was a close one. Jan Loudermilk was high for the Mustangs with 19 points, while Mac Percival had 24 for Tech.

In another tight conference race, Duke's seventh-ranked Blue Devils (16-3) took back first place in the Atlantic Coast with a 79-53 runaway at Maryland. Duke now has a 9-2 conference mark to 8-2 for Wake Forest—with a meeting between the two coming up Thursday night at the Deacons' court.

Tom Wynne's two free throws with 25 seconds to go in the second overtime period enabled St. Joseph's (Pa.) to maintain its unbeaten record in the Middle Atlantic conference with an 80-79 victory over Gettysburg.

Bowling Green (17-2) pushed closer to the Mid-American Conference title by knocking off Kent State 82-70. Howie Komives scored 34 points for the 10th ranked Falcons, while Nate Thurmond controlled the backboards with 23 rebounds.

Connecticut continued its long-standing home-court domination over Massachusetts and tightened up the Yankee Conference, whipping the Redmen 72-56. Massachusetts, still without a victory at Connecticut since 1936, is first in the league at 6-2 with two games left, while Connecticut is 5-2 with three to go.

In the upset department: Rhode Island stopped Providence 71-61, ending the Friars' winning streak at 10, and Marquette surprised Detroit 73-66.

Only five members of the Syracuse University swimming team come from outside New York state. Thomas Watts, a junior, lives farthest away — St. Petersburg, Fla.

McDevitt's Five Posts 7th Decision; Ours, Baldwin Set Pace

Wellsville hung tight at the end to come up with its seventh victory in 16 starts by nipping West Branch, 54-52, Tuesday night at Beacom Memorial Gym.

West Branch, which defeated the Tigers soundly a year ago with practically the same outfit, dropped its fourth game in 16 outings this season.

Both teams fought through a nip-and-tuck first quarter, but West Branch came on strong in the closing minute of the period to knot the count at 15-15.

—:—

THE dogfight for the lead continued through the second quarter until Coach Jack McDevitt received some clutch shooting from Ed Nelson, Roger Ours and Steve Baldwin that pushed the Tigers into a 34-26 halftime advantage.

In the second period, when Wellsville came up with a working edge, Nelson and Ours dropped in six points each while Baldwin added four.

The Tigers protected the margin pretty well through the third period and took a 46-40 lead into the final eight minutes.

WELLSVILLE'S freeze was not quite adequate and the Tigers lost the ball and missed free throws in the final minutes as West Branch closed the gap but not quite enough.

Sparking Wellsville's second straight victory were Ours and Baldwin. Ours turned in a 17-point performance while Baldwin hit the cords for 15. Forrest Harris chipped in with a valuable nine markers.

Actually, Wellsville's victory was posted at the foul line. Outdistanced from the field, 23-22, the Tigers dropped in 10 of 15 charity attempts while West Branch made good on six of 11.

—:—

THREE West Branch starters tied for honors as they scored 15 points each. Gathering the even dozen were Dan Dennis, Dan Henricks and Dick Wallace.

For Wellsville its 16 games down and two to go as the Tigers entertain Toronto Friday night and then close out the regular campaign at East Liverpool next Tuesday.

Wellsville's reserve squad faced an unbeaten West Branch Jayvee team and became its 15th straight victim, 51-44. Peach and Barber paced the winners with 13 each while Andy Dash and Milton Martin had 15 and 12 points respectively for Coach Chick McMillan's young Tigers.

WELLSVILLE—54
Nelson 3-0-1-6; Powell 3-1-1-7; Baldwin 5-5-6-15; Thompson 0-0-0-0; Ours 7-3-6-17; Harris 4-1-1-9. Totals 22-10-15-54.

Steers Seen On Way To Another ABL Title

By The Associated Press

The Kansas City Steers, first half champions of the American Basketball League, seem to be well on the way to the second half Western Division title.

They made it 5 straight and 12 of 16 by beating the Chicago Majors 97-91 Tuesday night. The San Francisco Saints, who only a few weeks ago topped the Western Division with a 7-0 mark.

Bauer And Athletics Look For Berth In First Division

By HANK BAUER

KANSAS CITY (AP) — I think our club is definitely stronger than last season. With a little luck we could contend for a berth in the first division.

Our biggest weakness last season was in our outfield. This year it can't help but be better with the addition of Gino Cimoli, whom we acquired in the minor league draft; Bill Lajoie, a recent acquisition from the Los Angeles Dodgers, and Manual Jimenez, who we obtained from the Milwaukee Braves.

Cimoli is a proven big leaguer and is only 32 years old. In 1957, he hit .293 for the Dodgers and played in the All-Star game. Last year, Lajoie finished third in the American Association batting race with a .320 mark at Omaha. Jimenez hit .325 in the Pacific Coast League with 17 homers and 76 RBI.

Another spot that could show considerable improvement is the pitching staff. Norm Bass, Jim Archer, Bill Kunkel and Ed Rakow should do much better with a year of major league experience under their belts. I look for Jerry Walker to regain the form he showed while at Baltimore when he became the youngest pitcher in big league history to win an All-Star game.

The strong point of our club is our infield with Norm Siebern at first base, Jerry Lumpe at second, Dick Howser at short and Wayne Causey at third.

We still need some help in the outfielder where the most glaring weakness is lack of a right-handed power hitter, and in pitching where we need a left-handed relief pitcher.

The Yankees are again the team to beat. Detroit was a good club, but the Tigers lack a good relief pitcher and bench strength.

Colt League To Hold Meeting Thursday

A meeting to formally organize the Colt Baseball League will be held Thursday at 7 p.m. at the Community Meeting room at the Potters Savings & Loan building, Don Smith, president, announced.

Have Some Hard Luck

FAIRBURY, Ill. (AP) — Fire Chief Oscar Hannie was driving to a fire when his car collided with one driven by Chris Gerber. His wife, who witnessed the collision from the porch of their home, started back into the house to get a coat. She slipped and suffered a double fracture of the right arm in the fall.

A relative took Mrs. Hannie to the hospital while Hannie got a ride to the fire in another car.

NCAA Attempts To Form Own Track, Gym Bodies

CHICAGO (AP) — The breach between the NCAA and AAU doesn't appear to be closing although it is being filled up with meetings.

Official organization of federations in track and field and gymnastics will come at March 4-5 meetings in Chicago, Walt Myers, NCAA executive director, announced Tuesday.

A basketball federation already has been launched.

A prompt move forward for organizing federations in track and field and gymnastics was endorsed Tuesday by forces of the NCAA and the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations. The association is represented in every state except Texas.

The action, coming a day after a peace parley between leadres of the NCAA and AAU ended in failure, was interpreted as additional NCAA pressure in its battle over control of U.S. amateur athletics and for international recognition.

The AAU is recognized as the nation's international representative, setting policy and exercising jurisdiction. The NCAA feels the AAU has done a poor job and has initiated formation of federations.

Gettysburg Star Hits 22 For 22 From Foul Stripe

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ron Warner, Gettysburg's basketball star, may have set a national record for consecutive free throws made in one game but it still must be verified by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Warner made 22 out of 22 Tuesday night as his team lost 80-79 to St. Joseph's of Philadelphia in double overtime. Warner, a 5-10 senior from York, Pa., finished with 34 points.

York Larese, formerly of North Carolina and now with the Philadelphia Warriors, tied the national free throw record of 21 in a row during the 1959-60 season against Duke in the Dixie Classic. The 21 mark first was established in 1956-57 by Johnny Lee of Yale against Oregon State.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

The second annual beaver trapping season will begin Thursday and end Feb. 28. This permits the trappers to take two beavers during the two-week open season.

Counties open to beaver trapping include Ashtabula, Columbiana, Mahoning, Portage and Trumbull. Permission of the landowner is required before trapping.

All beavers trapped must be sealed by a game protector before the pelt can be bought or sold. The deadline for getting pelts sealed is March 5.

As a convenience to the trappers, I will be at the county jail from 5 to 6 p. m. on March 2 and 5 to seal the pelts. Otherwise you may catch me at my home at Westville Lake and I will seal pelts there. But there will be no fixed time.

LAST YEAR, 106 beavers were taken in three counties. Of the 106, 52 were taken in Columbiana County. And we still have a good population of beavers that I estimate exceeds 400. I would like to see more taken this year as the population keeps increasing each year and they need to be controlled, in my opinion.

Don't bother to call me about trapping beavers. It is up to each trapper to make his own arrangements to trap. However, it seems rather strange that landowners don't hesitate to "raise all Ned" about beavers cutting their trees or flooding their pastures or flooding their spring waters all during spring and summer. Yet when we have an open season so they can get rid of some of them they keep quiet.

To you landowners who are annual complainers, drop me a card if you want them trapped and I'll put it in this column and trappers will appear from all directions. It costs the state a lot of money to send in a professional trapper to remove the nuisance beavers.

If this freezing weather keeps up, with all ponds and most of the streams frozen over, beaver trapping will be quite a problem and the novice trapper may trap each day without results. The experts who know how to trap beavers aren't likely to tell their secrets.

I also would like to remind the trappers that it might pay off if you looked at your traps as often as possible, providing you do not get so close as to scare the beavers.

One thing you can expect is the trap thief, who not only will take your trapped beaver, but your trap as well. Each trapper should have his secret mark on his trap so he will recognize it any place he sees it.

BE SURE you have your name and address on the trap either stamped in or with a metal tag. This gives the game protector a chance to catch the trap thief.

Actually, all a game protector has to see is a person lift a trap that does not have his name and address on it and he can make an immediate arrest. Neither can you make the game protector believe "you just lifted the trap at the request of your friend". The "friend" must attend his own traps.

One last tip about skinning a beaver. Make only one straight cut on the beaver from the lower lip to the base of the tail, then start peeling. Cut off the feet and the tail. Stretch the fur as round as possible and scrape off all flesh and fat and let dry.

Pirates' Gibbon Comes To Terms

Broglio, Sherry, Stars In 1960, Sign Contracts

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pitchers Ernie Broglio and Larry Sherry, disappointments last year after excellent seasons in 1960, have signed their 1962 baseball contracts hopeful of regaining their effectiveness.

Broglio, 26, agreed to terms with the St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday and took a substantial pay cut after getting more than $20,000 a year ago. The right-hander, beset by arm trouble, wound up with a 9-12 won-lost record and a 4.11 earned-run average in 1961.

The previous season his 2.74 ERA was second best in the National League when he won 21 games while losing 9.

Sherry received a token boost in pay of about $1,000 and okayed his pact with the Los Angeles Dodgers, calling for a reported $25,000.

The relief specialist missed three weeks last season with a sprained ankle and compiled a 4-4 won-lost record, although being credited with 15 saves. In 1960 Sherry posted a 14-10 record while appearing in 57 games.

The signings' front was brisk Tuesday as the teams continued their tasks of getting the players signed before the advent of spring training. The Cards also corralled pitchers Bob Duliba and Johnny Kucks to run their signees to 26. Second baseman Ken Aspromonte became the 33rd player in the Cleveland Indians' fold.

Only outfielder Bob Skinner and pitcher Larry Foss remained unsigned after pitcher Joe Gibbon came to terms with the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Pirates have 38 players under contract. The New York Mets completed the signing of their battery staff of 13 pitchers and 4 catchers when pitcher Bob Botz indicated he was satisfied with his pact.

Three rookies — shortstop Tom Tresh, second baseman Pedro Gonzales and outfielder Don Lock —agreed to terms with the New York Yankees. The Baltimore Orioles received signed contracts by four pitchers, Billy Short, Darold Knowles, Steve Cosgrove, and Dave McNally, giving them 28 players in the fold.

Three members of the Boston Red Sox okayed contract terms. They are third baseman Frank Malzone, catcher Russ Nixon and pitcher Billy MacLeod. Rookie infielder Dick Phillips signed his contract with the San Francisco Giants.

Pitchers Jack Spring, Bob Belinsky and George Conrad came to terms with the Los Angeles Angels, leaving only outfielder Leon Wagner and infielder Felix Torres among the unsigned.

Jockey Johnny Longden Ambitious Fellow At 55

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Big game hunter, trout fisherman, a fair golfer and a shrewd investor.

That's John Longden today on his 55th birthday.

The hobbies of this millionaire jockey—the winningest and possibly the wealthiest rider of all time—don't set him apart from some other rich men.

But few persons will argue that the physical demands of Longden's calling are great for a man of his years.

Active is the word for Johnny. Even when he gets a day off.

A newsman trying to reach him for a pre-birthday interview was informed that Longden had driven up to the snow in the mountains.

"I took some hay to the deer at Crystal Lake," the nature-loving jockey explained later. "There isn't too much forage for them in winter."

Longden, with 5,573 winners to his credit, still rides almost daily.

True, he averages 3 to 4 mounts instead of the 6 or 8 he used to ride. It's true, too, that he sleeps an extra hour in the morning.

"I'm up and out at 6 o'clock now," Longden said. "I spend an hour or so in the sweat box as I take off 1 to 3 pounds every riding day."

His winners have brought their owners $21 million. As the jockey, he gets 10 per cent.

Johnny, who rides these days at 114 pounds, eats a breakfast of eggs, dry toast and cereal. He skips lunch, then treats himself to steak or a roast at supper.

He's a regular at West Coast tracks. This doesn't give him much free time.

"I have to just take off when I want a rest or vacation," Johnny said. "In the fall I go to British Columbia for big game hunting and in the spring I go fishing at Crowley Lake in the high Sierra."

Does Longden ever expect to retire?

"Gosh no," said Mr. Moneybags. "I'm not worried about that."

6 Plead Innocent In Sister Kenny Mail Fraud Case

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Six of seven persons formerly associated with the Sister Kenny Foundation pleaded innocent Tuesday to an indictment containing 15 counts of mail fraud and one of conspiracy when they were arraigned in U.S. District Court.

The seventh defendant, Marvin L. Kline, former foundation director, was not in court and his attorney said he was "ill and in utter collapse."

The seven men were charged with misusing funds contributed by the public for the charitable group's rehabilitation work.

Judge Gunnar Nordbye tentatively set Feb. 23 for Kline's appearance. He accepted a suggestion from the U. S. district attorney that a doctor be appointed to examine Kline.

Nordbye gave the defendants 30 days to file motions and all six were released on $2,500 bond each. Dist. Atty. Miles Lord said he would not move for a trial date until the time for filing of motions has expired.

The defendants were indicted Jan. 30 by a federal grand jury.

700 At Dayton Attend Seminar

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Attendance totaled approximately 700 at morning and evening sessions of the sixth one-day seminar on state government conducted by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and his cabinet here Tuesday.

In response to questions at the evening session, the governor said that when the people of Dayton are in a position to demand a state university, they likely will get one. Of the economic situation, the governor remarked that he believes the wage-price spiral is ended at least for the time being.

DiSalle said he has not endorsed any of the Democratic candidates for Ohio congressman-at-large—but that he personally intends to vote for John Gilligan of Cincinnati.

Brown's Ruling Due On Vote Petitions

CINCINNATI (AP)— Secretary of State Ted W. Brown must rule on validity of nominating petitions for three maverick Cincinnati candidates in the primary.

The Hamilton County Election Board sent Brown the petitions Tuesday for Martin J. Hogan and Elmer C. Schwartz, Democrats, and Richard A. Dawley, Republican, claiming the documents were faulty. Hogan seeks nomination for the Ohio Senate, Dawley and Schwarz for the Ohio House. All decided to run without party endorsement.

Rhodes said the averages dropped from 9.29 pints in 1960 to 8.75. Purchases in state stores and sales to wholesalers dipped more than 100,000 gallons to 10,873,134, the auditor said.

The second annual beaver trapping season will begin Thursday and end Feb. 28. This permits the trappers to take two beavers during the two-week open season.

Counties open to beaver trapping include Ashtabula, Columbiana, Mahoning, Portage and Trumbull. Permission of the landowner is required before trapping.

All beavers trapped must be sealed by a game protector before the pelt can be bought or sold. The deadline for getting pelts sealed is March 5.

As a convenience to the trappers, I will be at the county jail from 5 to 6 p. m. on March 2 and 5 to seal the pelts. Otherwise you may catch me at my home at Westville Lake and I will seal pelts there. But there will be no fixed time.

LAST YEAR, 106 beavers were taken in three counties. Of the 106, 52 were taken in Columbiana County. And we still have a good population of beavers that I estimate exceeds 400. I would like to see more taken this year as the population keeps increasing each year and they need to be controlled, in my opinion.

Don't bother to call me about trapping beavers. It is up to each trapper to make his own arrangements to trap. However, it seems rather strange that landowners don't hesitate to "raise all Ned" about beavers cutting their trees or flooding their pastures or flooding their spring waters all during spring and summer. Yet when we have an open season so they can get rid of some of them they keep quiet.

To you landowners who are annual complainers, drop me a card if you want them trapped and I'll put it in this column and trappers will appear from all directions. It costs the state a lot of money to send in a professional trapper to remove the nuisance beavers.

If this freezing weather keeps up, with all ponds and most of the streams frozen over, beaver trapping will be quite a problem and the novice trapper may trap each day without results. The experts who know how to trap beavers aren't likely to tell their secrets.

I also would like to remind the trappers that it might pay off if you looked at your traps as often as possible, providing you do not get so close as to scare the beavers.

One thing you can expect is the trap thief, who not only will take your trapped beaver, but your trap as well. Each trapper should have his secret mark on his trap so he will recognize it any place he sees it.

BE SURE you have your name and address on the trap either stamped in or with a metal tag. This gives the game protector a chance to catch the trap thief.

Actually, all a game protector has to see is a person lift a trap that does not have his name and address on it and he can make an immediate arrest. Neither can you make the game protector believe "you just lifted the trap at the request of your friend". The "friend" must attend his own traps.

One last tip about skinning a beaver. Make only one straight cut on the beaver from the lower lip to the base of the tail, then start peeling. Cut off the feet and the tail. Stretch the fur as round as possible and scrape off all flesh and fat and let dry.

Pirates' Gibbon Comes To Terms

Broglio, Sherry, Stars In 1960, Sign Contracts

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pitchers Ernie Broglio and Larry Sherry, disappointments last year after excellent seasons in 1960, have signed their 1962 baseball contracts hopeful of regaining their effectiveness.

Broglio, 26, agreed to terms with the St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday and took a substantial pay cut after getting more than $20,000 a year ago. The right-hander, beset by arm trouble, wound up with a 9-12 won-lost record and a 4.11 earned-run average in 1961.

The previous season his 2.74 ERA was second best in the National League when he won 21 games while losing 9.

Sherry received a token boost in pay of about $1,000 and okayed his pact with the Los Angeles Dodgers, calling for a reported $25,000.

The relief specialist missed three weeks last season with a sprained ankle and compiled a 4-4 won-lost record, although being credited with 15 saves. In 1960 Sherry posted a 14-10 record while appearing in 57 games.

The signings' front was brisk Tuesday as the teams continued their tasks of getting the players signed before the advent of spring training. The Cards also corralled pitchers Bob Duliba and Johnny Kucks to run their signees to 26. Second baseman Ken Aspromonte became the 33rd player in the Cleveland Indians' fold.

Only outfielder Bob Skinner and pitcher Larry Foss remained unsigned after pitcher Joe Gibbon came to terms with the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Pirates have 38 players under contract. The New York Mets completed the signing of their battery staff of 13 pitchers and 4 catchers when pitcher Bob Botz indicated he was satisfied with his pact.

Three rookies — shortstop Tom Tresh, second baseman Pedro Gonzales and outfielder Don Lock —agreed to terms with the New York Yankees. The Baltimore Orioles received signed contracts by four pitchers, Billy Short, Darold Knowles, Steve Cosgrove, and Dave McNally, giving them 28 players in the fold.

Three members of the Boston Red Sox okayed contract terms. They are third baseman Frank Malzone, catcher Russ Nixon and pitcher Billy MacLeod. Rookie infielder Dick Phillips signed his contract with the San Francisco Giants.

Pitchers Jack Spring, Bob Belinsky and George Conrad came to terms with the Los Angeles Angels, leaving only outfielder Leon Wagner and infielder Felix Torres among the unsigned.

Jockey Johnny Longden Ambitious Fellow At 55

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Big game hunter, trout fisherman, a fair golfer and a shrewd investor.

That's John Longden today on his 55th birthday.

The hobbies of this millionaire jockey—the winningest and possibly the wealthiest rider of all time—don't set him apart from some other rich men.

But few persons will argue that the physical demands of Longden's calling are great for a man of his years.

Active is the word for Johnny. Even when he gets a day off.

A newsman trying to reach him for a pre-birthday interview was informed that Longden had driven up to the snow in the mountains.

"I took some hay to the deer at Crystal Lake," the nature-loving jockey explained later. "There isn't too much forage for them in winter."

Longden, with 5,573 winners to his credit, still rides almost daily.

True, he averages 3 to 4 mounts instead of the 6 or 8 he used to ride. It's true, too, that he sleeps an extra hour in the morning.

"I'm up and out at 6 o'clock now," Longden said. "I spend an hour or so in the sweat box as I take off 1 to 3 pounds every riding day."

His winners have brought their owners $21 million. As the jockey, he gets 10 per cent.

Johnny, who rides these days at 114 pounds, eats a breakfast of eggs, dry toast and cereal. He skips lunch, then treats himself to steak or a roast at supper.

He's a regular at West Coast tracks. This doesn't give him much free time.

"I have to just take off when I want a rest or vacation," Johnny said. "In the fall I go to British Columbia for big game hunting and in the spring I go fishing at Crowley Lake in the high Sierra."

Does Longden ever expect to retire?

"Gosh no," said Mr. Moneybags. "I'm not worried about that."

THIS IS BAD. YET! IT'S GOOD.

It's BAD because these are GOOD SOUND homes, being well built, having withstood YEARS of all KINDS of WEATHER. It's GOOD, because anyone wanting or needing a GOOD HOME can see all the DEFECTS and FAULTS (IF ANY) by no furniture and rugs to help distract one's inspection.

This one house has only had two tenants since it was built. It has two nice bedrooms and bath. Large livingroom with FIREPLACE, dining room and kitchen, enclosed front porch, good dry basement with a GOOD hot water HEATING SYSTEM. Also a single car garage. Price $8,000.

This house also has two bedrooms and bath, large kitchen, LARGE LIVINGROOM with fireplace, large dining room. A GOOD coal FURNACE and a large DOUBLE GARAGE. Price $6,500

Both of these homes are NOW VACANT. The owners will listen to any REASONABLE OFFERS. Best of all they are CLOSE TO TOWN, less than 10 minutes walk to the diamond. They can be bought on LAND CONTRACT to the RIGHT PARTY.

THIS IS BAD. YET! IT'S GOOD.

It's BAD because these are GOOD SOUND homes, being well built, having withstood YEARS of all KINDS of WEATHER. It's GOOD, because anyone wanting or needing a GOOD HOME can see all the DEFECTS and FAULTS (IF ANY) by no furniture and rugs to help distract one's inspection.

This one house has only had two tenants since it was built. It has two nice bedrooms and bath. Large livingroom with FIREPLACE, dining room and kitchen, enclosed front porch, good dry basement with a GOOD hot water HEATING SYSTEM. Also a single car garage. Price $8,000.

This house also has two bedrooms and bath, large kitchen, LARGE LIVINGROOM with fireplace, large dining room. A GOOD coal FURNACE and a large DOUBLE GARAGE. Price $6,500

Both of these homes are NOW VACANT. The owners will listen to any REASONABLE OFFERS. Best of all they are CLOSE TO TOWN, less than 10 minutes walk to the diamond. They can be bought on LAND CONTRACT to the RIGHT PARTY.

QUESTION: Do animals ever cry?

ANSWER: Animals do not cry the same way we do. They cry in their own ways. When we cry, our eyes fill with tears and then overflow. When dogs cry, they whine or lie in a corner, perhaps with their paws over their head. You may have seen a cat or dog with what looked like tears in his eyes. He wasn't crying; something was irritating his eyes, just as when we walk in a high cold wind, our eyes, too, fill with tears, even though we are not unhappy. Animals, like people, can have their feelings hurt. If you speak to your pet harshly, if you are unkind to him, or if you take away something he wants, he may very well cry, just as he may cry if he hurts his leg. Animals laugh too, in their own way. They do not make the same noises we do, but a dog will jump around and wag his tail and a cat will purr. Other animals have other ways of laughing.

FOR YOU TO DO: You can learn a great deal about an animal's way of laughing or crying. If you have an animal, or if you watch one often, such as at a zoo, you can come to tell when he is happy or unhappy by watching him when he is fed or when he hurts himself.
